Economic Prospect Bright, Decline at End, Ike Reports

Court Action Blocks Strike In Atom Plant

Injunction Granted On Eve of Scheduled Walkout of 4,500

OAK RIDGE Tenn (AP) — The government has obtained an injunction to stop a scheduled strike today of CIO production workers at key atomic plants here and at Paducah Ky where the nation's entire output of a vital ingredient for atomic and hydrogen bombs is produced

The Taft Hartley injunction was whipped out last night by U S District Judge Robert L Taylor at nearby Knoxville to block the strike of 4 500 workers ordered for 8 a m today The move came just hours after President Eisenhower said the government could not permit a work stoppage at the plants for reasons of national security

Workers To Return

Emerson Pownall president of the local promised last night that the workers would be back on the job today as another chapter was added to the four month old wage dispute

The injunction provides for an 80-day cooling off period in which the workers continue on the jobs and management is barred from holding a lockout while negotiations continue

Elwood Hain regional representative of the union from Atlanta Ga accepted service of the injunction last night for both locals

This was the second time the Taft Hartley law has been invoked to stop a strike of the same workers President Eisenhower ordered the injunction early last month but the workers went back to their jobs voluntarily

Demands Scaled Down

The Oak Ridge local of the CIO United Gas Coke and Chemical Workers has asked a raise of 21 cents an hour then scaled demands down to 15 cents from Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co operator of both Paducah and Oak Ridge plants Oak Ridge employs about 3 500 CIO production hands and Paducah about 1 000

US Asst Atty Gen Warren E Burger flew in from Washington last night on the President's request and asked for the injunction after Oak Ridge workers broke off day long negotiations and called the strike Paducah workers had voted Tuesday night to strike today

The plants produce this country's entire supply of uranium 235 necessary to the manufacture of hydrogen and atomic weapons

CZECH GIRLS, FREED BY REDS, JOIN THEIR FAMILY. End of a long five-year wait to see their mother comes for two Czechoslovakian girls when they find at the Cleveland airport The girls Marie Alexovicova, 17 and 12 year-old Anna were greeted not only by their mother but by a whole new family They are (from left) stepfather John Masica Marie holding half brother Joe Anna and their mother Mrs Masica holding Polly a half sister The girls parents had left Czechoslovakia in 1949 and expected them to follow but the Communists wouldn't let them leave until now

Money Value Holds Level, Earnings Up

President Says State Of Nation's Business Is Better Than Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower declared today that the overall performance of the American economy since this administration took over has been better than during any earlier time

The premise of fact is that the recent decline in economic activity has come to a halt the President said at another point in a report on the state of the nation's economic health at mid-year

Bright Prospects

And he listed signs which he said point out bright prospects for the future

Eisenhower's survey in this expressly elected session summoned for a reply to Democratic critics who have contended that the Republican administration is heading into unemployment and leading the nation into a depression

There appears no doubt that in sides will draw battle lines on the record for ammunition in the upcoming vote battles

Eisenhower noted the criticism in general terms and went on to say that the recent economic decline in an overall basis has been very small

He also declared

1 Price increases during the first six months of this year were less and—if developments such as bargain sales are taken into account—were on such a size without the slightest fear of contradiction that the value of the people's money has remained entirely intact

2 The increase in wages—which is one of the principal expressions of the progressiveness of the American economy—has continued

3 Unemployment is not now higher than during the Korean War but in recent months has not been larger than during comparable months in 1949 and 1950 The President added that the rate of unemployment has shown some tendency to diminish of late and said this is one of the numerous signs of economic improvement

4 One reason for the criticism of the recent record is that this rather minor decline has been better advertised than many major declines in our past

Activity Higher

The Eisenhower report said economic activity in the first half of this year even though behind that of the year before has been higher than at any time before

Government Shaken

Labor Unrest, John Case Stir Germany

FRANKFURT Germany (AP) — A rank case of treason and widespread unrest tortured West Germany's nerves today

For the first time in its five year history the Bonn republic has shown signs of wavering in its vaunted discipline industriousness and unity

Workers Discontent

A million low paid workers in industry agriculture and even government are massing behind union leaders to get more money or walk out

Strike this week by 15 000 Hamburg public utility employes and a majority of the 220 000 metal workers in Bavaria are a new setup for worse to come unless management and labor quits balking at reason

Many old political wounds among the Germans have been reopened by the defection to the Soviet zone of Dr Otto John the West German security chief

A wartime anti-Nazi and post war British agent John stunned Allied German relations by his startling defection to the East

For West Germany's enemies throughout the world John is now supplying fresh propaganda charges that the Bonn government is Nazified and a menace to peace

For Soviet spy chiefs John is a potential gold mine of information about Western security agents

He is the man who went to dinner in Washington just two months ago with Allen Dulles director of the U S Central Intelligence Agency and who conferred with FBI Chief J Edgar Hoover and high American military officers at the Pentagon U S officials insist he was told nothing of great importance but have not minimized the seriousness of his defection

Imperils Confidence

John has imperiled public confidence in the wisdom and honesty of Bonn cabinet ministers who climaxed up to the hour of his sensational press conference yesterday that he was the victim of a Red plot

John's defection and the outbreak of labor strife couldn't have come at a worse psychological moment for West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's regime

The nation already was edgy waiting for France to make up its mind after two years and three

Senate Defeats Move To Shunt Anti-Red Bill

Substitute Proposal Calling for Study of Problem Loses 57-31

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today defeated a move to sidetrack one of the Administration's anti-Communist bills—a measure with the averred aim of ridding labor unions of Red influences

It rejected 57 31 a proposal by Sen Magnuson (D Wash) that instead of a 12 member commission be set up to study the whole problem and report its findings by Jan 15

It was offered as a substitute for a bill by Sen Butler (R Md) to deny collective bargaining rights to labor unions found by the Subversive Activities Control Board to be Communist infiltrated

Butler told the Senate last night that the Attorney General approves this bill and Senate Republican leader Knowland of California told newsmen the administration is supporting it

The measure is along the lines of a bill Atty Gen Brownell had asked providing for the dissolution of Communist infiltrated labor unions and business firms as part of the administration's anti communist program

The House Judiciary Committee shelved the measure Brownell requested along with another measure he proposed to let employers bar suspected subversives from defense plants in times of emergency

In doing so it approved a bill to set up a study commission with instructions to report back to the next Congress

Magnuson cited the action of the House Committee is advancing his proposal for a similar study commission

KIDNAPING CHARGED

CANTON Ohio (AP)—A Stark County grand jury yesterday indicted two Nolan W Vanmeter on charges of kidnaping The pair Boone Blanton 31 and Carl C Blevins 30 are accused of abducting Raymond Jackson 28 of Midvale Tuscarawas County after forcing them into his car at a stoplight in North Industry last June 11

Senate Okays Curb on Debate Over Atom Bill

Surprise Agreement Boosts Chances for Quick Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surprise Senate agreement to curb debate on atomic energy legislation today boosted chances for speedy congressional adjournment but left prospects for the disputed bill in doubt

The agreement reached late last night brings the compromise measure to the Senate floor tomorrow under a talk limit of three hour

When the bill went through the Senate last month it prompted 169 hours of argument including four days of round the clock speechmaking and majority leader Knowland of California said this week Congress go home date depends on whether there is another filibuster on the measure He postponed the adjournment target date from this Saturday to sometime next week — or later

There was no objection and no questioning from the floor when Knowland offered the unanimous consent arrangement last night saying Democratic leader Lyndon B Johnson of Texas had helped him frame it

This means the bill a major feature of the Eisenhower legislative program already approved by the House will go to the President for signing if the Senate concurs If it

Attorneys Try Once More To Free Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Dr Samuel H Sheppard accused of clubbing his wife to death this again today to stop a preliminary hearing on the first degree murder charge against the 30 year old osteopath

His lawyers prepared to argue at a hearing before Common Pleas Judge Frank J Merrick that Acting Mayor Gershom M M Barber of Bay Village has shown prejudice towards Sheppard and should not conduct the preliminary hearing It could be held in any other Cuyahoga County municipality if Barber is found to be prejudiced

Defense Lawyer William J Corrigan filed the affidavit of prejudice last week and it was scheduled to be heard last Monday

But before the prejudice hearing began Corrigan asked for extra time to subpena witnesses and Judge Merrick granted the delay

Barber issued the murder warrant July 30 He scheduled the preliminary hearing for last Monday but was stopped pending a ruling on the prejudice affidavit

The preliminary hearing is to determine whether probable cause exists to hold the defendant for grand jury action

Sheppard has maintained that one or two intruders inflicted fatal blows to his wife while he slept on a downstairs couch early July 4

He says that later he fought with an intruder and suffered head and neck injuries

Tax Bill Owed By McCarthy, Paper Learns

Made Error in Filling Out Returns, Agents Are Quoted as Saying

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Evening Star said today internal revenue agents after 18 months investigation have concluded that Sen McCarthy (R Wis) owes additional income taxes and interest of about $25 000

McCarthy said if he wished to comment on the newspaper's story told a reporter It is strictly untrue There is strictly nothing to it

The Internal Revenue Service declined comment

The newspaper said it had learned the revenue service will soon present the evidence it has gathered to McCarthy and give him a chance to explain data that the tax investigators do not understand

The tax agents do not contend that Sen McCarthy acted with

Auto Workers Set To Vote on Important Issue

Studebaker Employes Asked To Accept Cut So Firm Can Continue

SOUTH BEND Ind (AP)—Thousands of Studebaker automotive employes prepared to vote today on an issue of immense potential importance to the whole of American industry — whether to accept a cut in pay so that the company can cut its costs

Studebaker officials have told the local union of the CIO United Auto Workers that the wage adjustments are necessary for competitive reasons

Union officers who worked out the proposals in lengthy negotiations with the company have urged the membership to accept

The reductions would be effected by elimination of piecework and incentive pay

The cuts amount to an average 14 per cent of the payroll

A union official estimated that the reductions would range from

Quit Cussing, Moscow Press Tells Russians

Newspaper Launches Drive Against Profane And Vulgar Language

MOSCOW (AP) — The big Soviet press campaign to clean up Russian morals has taken a new kick Cut out the cussing the men are told

Komsomol Pravda the organ of the Soviet Communist Youth League is spearheading the effort to shush profane and vulgar language

Drive Against Drinking

A drive against drunkenness and hooliganism already has been going on several months with good results the papers claim

Now Komsomol Pravda has cast a disapproving glance toward the Urals industrial center of Sverdlovsk The youth paper spread over two columns a letter from a Sverdlovsk citizen complaining of vulgarities heard about town

Clean these evil words out of our rich expressive language the paper admonished

The letter writer had this to report about some workers in a big plant

One recently began to speak to a new girl worker there but the language he used was so bad the girl fled

Nothing Being Done

There is also even a Komsomol member who continually uses vulgar and abusive language in serious as well as jesting conversation

'And still another worker only 17 who feels he shows he's grown up when he uses evil language

The letter added that nothing was being done about all this It pointed out that 'recently there was a case of a man using such language in a crowded tram and

Mundt Makes Forecast

McCarthy-Army Report Predicted in Two Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Mundt (R SD) predicted today a report may be ready by Aug 20 on the McCarthy Army row stirred up anew yesterday by an Army statement voicing disbelief in a portion of the sworn testimony by Sen McCarthy (R Wis)

The Army said it does not believe that any Army officer gave McCarthy excerpts from a secret FBI report on suspected Communists in the Army as the senator testified during the 36 day hearings

Won't Debate Issue

McCarthy commented that he had no intention of getting into a new debate on the issue

With the ground being laid to start a new Senate investigation of his official conduct on Aug 30 McCarthy meanwhile called witnesses for resumption of public hearings his investigations subcommittee is conducting on alleged Communist infiltration of defense plants He declined to name the witnesses in advance

And on another front a Senate rules subcommittee headed by Sen Jenner (R Ind) called Mundt and Ray H Jenkins to give their views on whether the McCarthy Army hearings showed a need for new 'fair play' rules to govern Senate investigations Mundt presided at those hearings and Jenkins was special counsel

The prepared statement released at the Pentagon yesterday was in reply to reporters' questions about an Army investigation of McCarthy's sworn testimony in those hearings that a young Army intelligence officer gave him a 24-page document McCarthy offered in evidence Members of the investigating subcommittee refused to read it

Not Hoover's Letter

The document purported to be a letter written by FBI Director J Edgar Hoover to Maj Gen Alexander Bolling in 1953 when Bolling was assistant Army chief of staff for intelligence

Hoover sent word to the subcommittee that it quoted accurately from a 15 page report the FBI sent to the Army but he said it was not a copy of any letter he had written Atty Gen Brownell ruled that publication would be contrary to the national interest

2nd Anniversary Reached

Ohio A-Plant Construction Nears Peak

By L W BURNS
Portsmouth Times Staff Writer

PORTSMOUTH Ohio (AP) —The Portsmouth Area atomic energy plant was near the peak of its vast construction phase today as the billion dollar project reached its second anniversary

During the two years since the Atomic Energy Commission picked a site in Pike County 18 miles north of Portsmouth for its new gaseous diffusion plant a new city in area and population, has been built

On it have risen vast buildings which will produce uranium 235 for atom bombs and peacetime energy Doing the job 23 000 men are swarming over 3 600 acres that once was farmland the home of only 50 families

HUNDREDS OF new houses have gone up thousands of trailers have been sprawled along roadsides in courts laid out to accommodate them and millions of dollars have been budgeted for new schools highways and public service

With employment now at the 23 000 mark the figures will climb to around 25 000 this fall remain stable a short time then begin to recede

Kenneth A Dunbar, the young engineer the AEC assigned to manage the project — second largest construction job of its kind underway in the world—says construction is essentially on schedule

The construction is being pushed by Peter Kiewit Sons Co of Omaha, Neb one of the world's largest construction contractors Kiewit assigned one of his top men George C Holling, as general manager here

Chief firms among the subcontractors are Grinnell Corp the Reynolds-Newbery joint venture and George Koch Sons

Kiewit is operating on a cost-plus fixed fee basis by which it receives a fixed sum from the AEC for its management and equipment as the AEC pays all the operating costs

Goodyear Atomic Corp, which will be the actual operator of the A plant when construction is completed, is getting ready for its task

When the precious U 235 will being to trickle out of the huge process buildings remains a top defense secret But AEC officials say production is expected to start some time in 1954

GOODYEAR ATOMIC a subsidiary of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co set up to tackle the brand new production task has built up an organization of 1 800 almost half of the 4 000 complement it figures will be needed to operate the A-plant full blast

Goodyear already has taken over some of the operational aspects of the plant such as the telephone switchboard and the fire department

The transition from contractor to operator is going along smoothly and efficiently," said Albert J Gracia general manager of Goodyear Atomic

A year and a half ago after starting from scratch with 27 key Goodyear veterans Gracia's organization began recruiting young scientists from among the nation's college graduating classes

These men—physicists chemists engineers in virtually every branch and management personnel—have been sent to Oak Ridge Tenn, for training in the intricacies of the gaseous diffusion process As they have come back to Portsmouth group by group they have been developing trainings in their various departments

Having met the challenge of the huge construction project—second in size only to AEC's Savannah River (S C) hydrogen bomb plant—Portsmouth now will prepare for the letdown in its economy that is bound to come next year

But most of the merchants and public officials knew it had to

Process Server Takes 14 Years, Finally Scores

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It took process servers 14 years to catch up with Sally Rand, the fan dancer.

William Lawson managed to serve the summons yesterday, issued in connection with a judgment obtained in 1940 by Mrs. Olive Kephart, who charged that Miss Rand had failed to repay some loans.

Lawson, hearing Miss Rand was appearing at a home exhibit here, bought a ticket, waited in line, got a smile from Sally and then handed her the summons.

The judgment, for $4,334, has grown with interest to $8,050.

Famous Last Words: Burglar Alarm No Good

CHICAGO (AP)—Milton Wishnick, 41, discontinued a burglar alarm service for his North Side drug store on July 1 because, he said, it as "too expensive and unsatisfactory." Burglars yesterday broke into the drug store, which also is a postal substation, and stole $1,029 in cash, $1,000 in stamps, 300 money order blanks, a quantity of saving stamps, a portable floor safe and $500 worth of cigarettes.

ARMY SAVINGS UP

Indians Handcuffed, Take Gift Verdict From Tigers

Second-Inning Errors Hurt Gromek; Lemon Due Today

DETROIT (AP)—If Bob Lemon is to win his 16th victory for the Cleveland Indians today he may have to put a little punch of his own into the Tribe batting attack in addition to outsmarting the Tigers on the mound

Winning 2-0 yesterday the Indians scored two unearned runs on three hits In the opener of the three-game series Cleveland made only five hits and was shut out 4 0

In their last visit to Briggs Stadium, Cleveland was blanked 1 0 by George Zuverink in 11 innings

Zuverink a former Tribesman will hurl today He has a 7 6 record Lemon who has won seven in a row has lost only five Against the New York Yankees last Sunday Lemon helped his cause with a homer and a single driving in two runs

Mike Garcia limited Detroit to four singles in hurling his fifth shutout of the season yesterday Garcia has won 14 against five losses

Garcia needed all his speed and a good measure of luck to overcome Steve Gromek ex Indian righthander who limited the Tribe to two singles by Bob Avila and one by Larry Doby Garcia and Gromek each gave three walks

Two Tiger infield errors in the second inning decided the game in Cleveland s favor Al Rosen was on first with a walk when Dave Pope hit a roller to Wayne Belardi at first Belardi s throw to second pulled Harvey Kuenn off the bag and Rosen was safe Kuenn s return throw to Belardi bounced into the Cleveland dugout, and Rosen scored Pope taking third Pope came home as Sam Dente grounded out

Pitless in three turns yesterday Rosen was moved down a notch in the batting order and out of the clean up spot for the first time this season Vic Wertz batted fourth

Rosen s current 294 batting average is his lowest in two years and he has been hitless his last 19 times at bat During August s 11 games he has hit one single one double and driven in one run in 39 at bats

Indiana Champion Breaks Par, Wins Women's Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jane Nelson of Indianapolis a former Indiana state champion was the only golfin' gal able to break par yesterday as she won the seventh annual Women s Tri State tournament with a 75

Miss Nelson s score registered on nine hole counts of 38-37 was three strokes under women s par of 39 39—78 for the Maketewah Country Club s 6 549 course

Miss Nelson runner up here last year in the Women s Western Amateur finished three strokes out in front of Mrs Bert Craig who rallied from a three over par seven on the first hole to finish with a par 78

Players from Dayton Cincinnati Indianapolis and Columbus wound up in a four way tie for third place with 82 each They were Mrs James Pickrel of Dayton Judy Anderson of Cincinnati Mrs Paul Dye Jr of Indianapolis and Mrs Robert Palmer of Columbus

ALL-STAR CAGE GAME

HUNTINGTON W Va (AP)—The Ohio Valley Athletic Club of Clermont County will sponsor an all star basketball game Aug 20 at Memorial Fieldhouse here Several top former high school basketball players will be featured including Owen Lawson of Middletown Ohio and Adrian Hayes of Oak Hill Ohio At least five states will be represented

Cincy Tops Cubs With 5 Home Runs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs didn t get a lot of hits last night but no one could complain about the mileage on the nine safe blows they accumulated

Five of nine hits soared over the fence for home runs as the Reds walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-1

It was the second time this season the Redlegs hit five homers in one game and the performance again tied the club record for the most homers in one game

Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass each got two home runs and Ed Bailey one Kluszewski s wallops boosted his home run total to 31 while Greengrass increased his to 20

All the home runs were solo affairs and they had accounted for a 5 0 Cincinnati lead before the Rhinelanders ever seemed to figure there are other ways to score Warren Hacker Cubs starter yielded all the clouts

With that kind of power hitting Art Fowler had little trouble winning his ninth game and his third from Chicago He has been beaten seven times

Fowler who didn t walk a man had a shutout until the ninth when the Bruins used three singles and a sacrifice fly to score their only run

Manager Stan Hack yanked Hacker in the sixth and brought in Jim Davis The Reds got to him for a pair of runs in the seventh on two walks an error and Wally Post s single

Singles by Bobby Adams and Roy McMillan and Gus Bell s infield out accounted for the last Cincinnati run in the eighth off Bob Zick

Fowler had one Chicagoan retired when he dropped his guard long enough in the ninth for the Bruins to escape a shutout He yielded successive singles to Gene Baker Dee Fondy and Ralph Kiner to load the bases Baker scored on Hank Sauer s fly

The two teams wind up their series with an afternoon game today and Cincinnati was expected to start Bud Podbielan against Paul Minner

Fired-Up Lions Favorites Over Collegiate Aces

CHICAGO (AP)—It s more than remotely possible that a rule calculated to give the College All Stars a better chance of winning will backfire into their undoing when they tangle with the Detroit Lions tomorrow night

The Lions National Football League champions for two years running have been openly defiant of the fact that the charity classic will be played under the limited substitution rule of college football And that defiance might well be just what the pro kingpins need to get fired up for the contest

Lion Coach Buddy Parker is peeved not only because the rule will deprive him of using separate offensive and defensive platoons and full utilization of his many specialists but also because it has required him to change his entire system

Angry or not the Lions are favored to score their second successive victory in this annual grid show to be witnessed by 90 000 fans who ll pay their way into Soldier Field and millions of others who ll snuggle up to their television sets

Poor Weekend Fishing Seen in Lakes, Streams

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The State Division of Wildlife reports Ohio s general fishing outlook for the coming weekend is poor

The outlook by sections

NORTHWEST — St Mary s Lake is roily and low but fishing the past week has been fair East Harbor is at normal level and some largemouth bass bluegills and crappies have been caught The streams of Auglaize and Henry counties are muddy and high but fishing is above average

NORTHEAST — Walleye fishing has been fair in Pleasant Hill Charles Mill Clearfork and the Portage lakes Nice catches of sheepshead and catfish have been reported in Lake Erie

Prospects for perch bluegills and largemouth bass are good at Aquilla and Punderson lakes Carp are running in Charles Mill Beaver Reservoir and Gunford Lake Fishing is poor in Lake Milton

EAST CENTRAL SOUTHEAST—Good catches of largemouth bass crappies catfish and bluegills have been reported in Wills Creek Fishing at Atwood and Leesville lakes is good The outlook is poor in most other lakes and streams

CENTRAL, SOUTHERN — Fishing is fair in roily Buckeye Lake Jackson and Rocky Fork lakes are clear and fair catches of bass are being made Fishing is good in Kokosing River and conditions in other streams range from poor to good

Tribe Thrives On Overtime, Close Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland s reputation of folding the stretch may wind up only a forlorn hope of the New York Yankees if the Indians continue to thrive under pressure

Al Lopez' surging crew if traveling at a phenomenal 700 pace but what s more important psychologically, they re winning the close ones

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show Cleveland has the major leagues best record in one run and extra inning games

The Indians have won 22 games and lost only nine by the margin of a single tally In 33 overtime contests they ve produced 10 victories Including its 2 0 victory over Detroit yesterday Cleveland has captured 11 games by two runs and dropped four

The Yankees have done well enough in the one run games with a 21 10 mark but have floundered in extra innings with five triumphs against five setbacks

The Chicago White Sox in third place have won only 15 of 34 one run tilts and two of six overtime tussles

In the National League Brooklyn has an 18 11 record in one run games for the top slate while the pace setting New York Giants are in front in the extra innings department with 8 3

The onrushing Milwaukee Braves probably wouldn t have had to make up so much lost ground if they had done better in the tight games earlier in the season

Local Offer Best Bet for Buying A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Prospects grew dim today that Philadelphia A leaders hoped to be the first today to have the inside track on the minor league baseball franchise of the Mack family

But there still is a chance that the Philadelphia interests offered the proposal from Chicago may yet be realized Connie Mack Sr and his two sons Earle and Roy

The Macks and the other two members of the board of directors Eastern League Incorporated Thomas H Richardson and Clifton Building me put off his decision until after two reported upcoming sessions

J Channing Ellery general counsel for the club issued a statement after the second meeting late yesterday which said in full

At the meeting of the Board of the Philadelphia Athletics today various proposals were discussed at length No decision was reached The board adjourned to meet again approximately two weeks Within that time all proposals will be thoroughly reviewed with particular emphasis on keeping the team in Philadelphia

Moore Belted Early, Recovers To Nip Johnson in 14th Round

Manager Says Champ Called Knockout Shot

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — A spectacular 'called shot' technical knockout over able Harold Johnson in the 14th round added luster to light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's great record today.

Now the 37½ year old fistic marvel will seek to fatten his bankroll with a Sept. 23 title fight in Omaha against either Joey Maxim or Jimmy Slade.

Maxim beaten three out of three by the magnificent Moore appears more likely to get the payday. His wily manager Jack (Doc) Kearns will meet sometime today with Charley Johnston, Moore's manager and members of the Omaha Centennial Committee to talk turkey.

After stopping the fast punching, solidly built Johnson in a dramatic come from behind fashion for his 19th straight victory, Moore said he'd like to fight either heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano or Don Cockell, the British heavyweight king.

Manager Johnston, a realistic soul said Marciano has that Sept. 15 title fight with Ezzard Charles and "I know Cockell doesn't want any part of Archie. We want the dough and they're offering Archie $100,000 to fight in Omaha. We're ready."

Moore was ready, too, when Johnston told him to go out and get Johnson in the 14th.

"I'll knock him out in this round," Johnston said Moore told him. He did in just 56 seconds.

The crouching champion tore after his lumbering rival, staggered him with a right to the chin and then rained blows on his sagging rival. Johnson fell on his back in his own corner.

The Philadelphia Negro clambered up at six but his legs were rubbery. Referee Ruby Goldstein stepped in and stopped the slaughter.

Although Moore was trailing going into the 14th (two of the three officials had him behind) the 175 pound ruler said he had no doubts about the outcome.

"I knew I'd get him," said Archie.

Johnson decked Moore in the 10th with a right behind the ear. If the fight had been a ten rounder, Harold would have won. All three officials had him ahead then. Goldstein had it 53-2. Judge Bert Grant 5-4-1 and Judge Arthur Aidala 7-3.

"I made one mistake," said the crestfallen loser. "My corner told me not to back up straight but I did and he got me."

Young Golfers Given Chance In 'World' Play

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time in a dozen years golf's younger set is given a good chance to crash through the so-called old guard and cash in on the richest tournament in history — the 'world' championship opening today at Tam O'Shanter.

Only the more hard-bitten pros have come through in the past, the youngest winner of any Tam title being Byron Nelson who took the honors in the 1941 inaugural at the age of 29.

With $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract going to the winner, favoritism rests with such seasoned campaigners as Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Peter Cooper and the recent all-american winner Jerry Barber. All are over 40 or pushing it.

But there are at least three youngsters who are not too awed by the big prize as the 72-hole stampede starts today.

They are British Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Gene Littler, each barely 24 and 27-year old Bob Toski, now registering from Livingston, N.J.

The broad shouldered Thomson is one of the hottest tourney pros. He finished third in the All American phase of the Tam carnival that closed Sunday.

Toski, a little 127 pounder, is having his greatest tournament season with a collection of 14,938 to be third in the official PGA money winning list.

Littler, National Amateur champion last year, is a stoic fellow of Ben Hogan's old school who turned pro nearly seven months ago and has been runner up in the National Open, Kansas City Open and All American.

Each is ready to take golf's biggest money plum.

Red Birds Defeat Indians on 4-Hit Hurling by Moford

By The Associated Press

Herb Moford threw a four hitter at Indianapolis last night and enabled the Columbus Red Birds to beat the American Association leaders for only the third time in 15 games, 6-3.

It was Moford's 14th victory of the season. He now has whipped every other club in the league.

Gerry Thomas drove in three runs to spark the Red Bird attack. He knocked in two of the tallies with a double in the second inning.

Another good pitching job figured prominently in St. Paul's 7-4 conquest of the Toledo Sox. Ron Negray scattered eight Sox hits and struck out 10 to post his 14th victory against nine defeats.

In the only other game Charleston used 10 bases on balls and four wild pitches to run up a 6-1 count on Kansas City.

Trucks, Spearhead of Sox Pennant Drive, Posts 17th

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

At an age when most fast ball pitchers are relaxing with their press clippings Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the Chicago White Sox is blazing his way to his best season in the majors

The 35-year-old speed merchant needs only three more victories to equal his previous high of 20 In his present form this looks like a cinch.

Trucks, who broke into organized ball in 1938 and reached the big time in 1941, has been the sensation of the American League the past two seasons After a miserable 5-19 record with Detroit in 1952, he posted a brilliant 20-10 mark last year, dividing his services between the old St Louis Browns (5-4) and the White Sox (15-6).

His work won him top honors in the Associated Press poll for the "Comeback of the Year."

Except for 1952 Trucks has been a consistent winner. Even in his bad year two of his victories were no-hitters Last season, when he reached 20 for the first time, he won his 17th game on Aug 23 He pitched five shutouts over last year.

Now he's 12 days ahead of that pace. He whipped the Baltimore Orioles 1-0 yesterday for his 17th triumph and his fifth shutout against five setbacks

Trucks gives full credit for his improvement to Manager Paul Richards of the Sox

"It's a real pleasure to work for him," Trucks said. "I feel I'm really doing my best and I'd like nothing better than to win 20 again."

Trucks' performances so far this season include two one-hitters, against Boston May 1 and Detroit July 6 The Orioles reached him for nine but their most serious threat fizzled in the eighth when Minnie Minoso made a fine running catch of Jim Brideweser's long foul fly with the bases loaded and two out.

Bob Kuzava, making his first appearance for Baltimore since leaving the New York Yankees, was charged with the loss.

The White Sox failed to gain in the pennant race since Cleveland and the Yankees also won. The Indians edged Detroit 2-0 New York beat Philadelphia 3-1. Boston pounded Washington 10-1 in an afternoon game but lost to the Senators at night 5-4

Cleveland leads the Yankees by three games and the White Sox by seven

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers clipped the idle New York Giants' lead to 3½ games with a 3-2 squeaker over Philadelphia. Third-place Milwaukee moved within seven games by shading St Louis 6-5 in a game shortened to seven innings by rain Cincinnati hit five home runs beating Chicago, 8-1

Ted Williams hit a pair of two-run homers, his 21st and 22nd of the season In Boston's daylight triumph His career total now is 359, good for a tie for sixth with Johnny Mize on the all-time list of home run sluggers

New Antisubversive Bill Certain To Get Court Test

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is up to President Eisenhower now to sign into law and he probably will the bill just passed by Congress to guarantee balky witnesses immunity to federal prosecution if they answer questions about subversion.

This measure if it becomes law almost certainly will have a stormy history and perhaps a sensational one. It will be fought in the courts as unconstitutional. If it works it may lead to startling disclosures about communism.

THE BILL goes like this:

1. It is aimed mainly at Communists past or present. Immunity can be given only to witnesses in cases involving conspiracy to overthrow the government treason spying and sedition. Immunity cannot be given for any other kind of offense.

2. A witness can't get immunity for the asking. He must first refuse to testify by invoking the Fifth Amendment which says a man can't be compelled to say anything which might incriminate him.

3. The immunity can be given only to a Fifth Amendment witness appearing before a congressional committee a federal grand jury or a federal court and only if his testimony is important.

4. The immunity can't be granted at all unless two-thirds of the full committee before which he has been called votes to give it to him. Once the committee approves then —

5. The committee itself can't grant the immunity. It must ask a federal judge to do so. The attorney general has no veto even though he objects perhaps because he had been preparing to bring the witness to trial soon.

Once the witness gets immunity he cannot thereafter be prosecuted in federal court for any federal crime in relation to which he answers questions.

6. But once given immunity the witness must answer questions. If he spurns the immunity insisting that under the Fifth Amendment he still doesn't have to answer questions he can be cited for contempt of Congress tried and if convicted jailed.

7. The procedure is slightly different when a Fifth Amendment witness refuses to answer questions before a federal grand jury or in federal court. In that case a U.S. District Attorney with the approval of his boss the Attorney General may ask a federal judge to grant immunity. If the witness still prefers the Fifth Amendment to immunity he can be cited for contempt of court tried and if found guilty jailed.

THIS IS where the trouble will arise.

The new law says only that the witness could never be prosecuted by the federal government for any federal crime related to his testimony.

It does not say the same witness could not be prosecuted in a state court. For example suppose one admitted committing a federal crime and a state had a law making the same offense a state crime too.

The state couldn't use his federal testimony in a state court trial. The Supreme Court has ruled on that.

But could the state use his federal testimony as a lead on which to gather evidence on which to try him in a state court? There's no answer. And nere can be until the Supreme Court some day gives a decision on it.

The first Supreme Court test might come one day if a witness receives immunity from a federal judge but keeps silent under the Fifth Amendment and was jailed for contempt. He could argue:

This new legislation was an attempt to get around the Fifth Amendment protection the even destroyed by forcing him to testify against himself against his will.

Christianity vs. Communism

World's Clergy Faces Explosive Issue

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Churchmen from the East and the West headed today for a religious arena which is charged with tensions—both religious and political.

Third of a Series

The gathering is in the cause of Christianity.

But around this central purpose swirls a haze of doubts and discords that could roll in to frustrate the meeting—the Assembly of the World Council of Churches here, starting Sunday for two weeks.

"There are dangers, but there also are hopes," said Dr. G. K. A. Bell, Britain's Bishop of Chichester and chairman of the council's Central Committee.

"The danger in a great body of churches meeting in a time of so much strain, antagonism and hostility is that some may seek to reflect their own political and national points of view.

"But there is hope that they will all come together in a mood to submit various experiences and insights, even ideologies, to the mastership and judgment of Christ."

ALTHOUGH the council faces a host of touchy social and religious questions, probably the most explosive is the relationship of Christianity and communism, and the presence of delegates from Communist countries.

At least 18 churchmen from Red-ruled lands—8 from East Germany and 5 each from Hungary and Czechoslovakia—will be among the 1,500 representatives. Others from Poland and Yugoslavia also may attend.

"Communist collaborationists" is the label applied to them by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), who says he will hold hearings simultaneously with the assembly to show their "false pretenses."

He said they are "servants of world communism who masquerade as men of God."

Others, including two Midwestern American Legion posts, also have denounced admission of the delegates. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, called them "puppets of atheistic communism," and said:

"Evanston must declare communism antireligious, anti-Christ and utterly antagonistic to everything for which the church should stand, or Evanston will divide the American Protestant community."

However, none of the 161 Orthodox, Old Catholic, Anglican and Protestant denominations in 48 countries belonging to the council have opposed representation of the Iron Curtain churches.

Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, the council's general secretary, said some of us may disagree" with positions taken by Iron Curtain churchmen, but council membership is based solely on a "spiritual criterion"—recognition of Christ as divine Lord and Savior.

He added it is "terribly important for this movement to keep in touch with the churches" behind the Iron Curtain, and so "everything we can to strengthen the links with Christians in those countries."

SECRETARY of State John Foster Dulles, who as a church leader clashed with Iron Curtain delegates at the council's founding assembly six years ago at Amsterdam before he entered the government, backed their admission now.

The State Department made detailed inquiries before approving the visas. It said the importance of the meeting to worldwide Christianity was so great the government should not bar anyone legally admissible.

This implied none were found to be Communists or Fascists, who are barred under the McCarran Act.

Dr. O. Frederick Nolde, chairman of the council's International Relations Commission, called the decision a "clear demonstration of our belief in religious freedom," which would hearten people under totalitarian rule.

Most vociferous attack on admitting the Iron Curtain churchmen has come from the Rev. Carl McIntire of Collingswood, N. J., head of a small faction of fundamentalists called the International Council of Christian Churches.

Describing the delegates as "agents of the Kremlin," he has urged a wave of rallies, resolutions, speeches, advertisements, letters and demonstrations to protest their coming.

Board Denies Kenton School District Change

KENTON — Petitions for the transfer of two territories to another school district have been denied by the Ohio Board of Education, it was announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Kenton city school board.

The decision came after hearings by the state board of education held here on June 28, when two areas requested transfer from the Kenton Union School District to the Hardin Central District. The areas requesting the change were the northern outlying area adjacent to the city and an area east of the corporation limits.

Kenton Superintendent Paul Oaklief announced that the school faculties at the various buildings had been completed.

It was also announced that all students living outside of the Kenton corporation line will be transported to their classes, according to a resolution passed by the board.

Tuition will be collected for students living outside of the Kenton City School District and who are attending classes in Kenton, it was announced.

A resolution was passed permitting the Veterans Administration the use of Kenton High School facilities for the purpose of providing instruction in agriculture for veterans of the Korean War. The first such class will meet next Monday at 7 p.m. in the agricultural room of the high school.

Plans Talk to Nation

Ike Takes Hand in Fight For Control of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appears to be inching into a leading role in the battle for control of Congress despite his avowed plans to remain aloof from local political skirmishes.

Administration leaders said today Eisenhower hopes to go on television and radio with a 30-minute talk on the administration's legislative record within 24 hours after Congress ends its regular work, probably next week.

Planned Long Time

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he was planning what he called a little bit of a talk to review Congress' record since he took office in January 1953. He added he didn't want to cheat on himself by saying any more at this time.

But administration officials who asked anonymity said preparations for the appearance have been under way for a long time.

Although the President's talk will be billed as a report to the nation, Democrats indicated they may demand equal time to counter what some of them said they regard as a Republican kickoff for the congressional campaign.

Despite Eisenhower's repeated statements that he would avoid getting involved in local political fights, his schedule already precludes appearances in Illinois, New Jersey and Kentucky. Pressure is reported beginning to build up heavily from other areas. The President has also taken time to pose for pictures with more than 100 GOP House members.

Nixon Starts in Ohio

GOP National Committee officials have turned to Vice President Nixon to carry the heavy burden of a political stumping tour. Nixon starts his active campaigning with a speech at the Ohio Republican state convention Sept. 15 and is expected to make several excursions to different parts of the country before the November voting.

Many Republicans say, however, that there is no voice equal to Eisenhower's in defending the record of the GOP-controlled Congress. Eisenhower has insisted that the Republicans must stand or fall on the record made on the administration's program.

As expected, there is a sharp division of political opinion on that record.

Issue on Sewers At Upper Tops Wyandot Vote

UPPER SANDUSKY — Special issues to be considered by Wyandot County voters in the November election include the Upper Sandusky municipal sewer bond issue.

The proposed $500,000 bond issue to finance a sewage disposal plant would permit the issuing of general obligation bonds rather than revenue bonds at a probable lesser rate of interest. The bond issue will require a new tax. The bonds will be financed by a sewer rental already being collected with the quarterly bills from the municipal water works.

A Crane Township proposal is a three-tenths mill levy for four years to buy and maintain a new fire engine. Crane Township includes Upper Sandusky.

The Upper Sandusky School District proposal is the renewal of one and four-tenths mills and the addition of one and six-tenths mills for five years for current expenses.

Others in Wyandot County are Carey village one mill additional tax for park maintenance, Richland Township four-tenths mills renewal for five years for fire department equipment and maintenance, Carey School District one and four-tenths mills renewal and one and six-tenths additional for five years for current expenses; Wharton School District, one and seven-tenths mills renewal and eight-tenths additional for five years for current expenses; Mc-Cutchenville School District, two and four-tenths renewal and one and six-tenths additional for five years for current expenses; Marseilles school district, three and six-tenths mills renewal and two and four-tenths mills additional for five years for current expenses; Mifflin-Kirby School District, an additional one and one-half mills for five years for current expenses.

fraudulent intent," the story said.

"Instead, they assert the Wisconsin legislator erroneously classified as non-taxable some of the money he received and on which he should have paid taxes."

The case was described as covering the tax years 1946 through 1952.

Saying there was no claim of intent to defraud, the newspaper added:

"A taxpayer in these circumstances can clear himself by simply paying back taxes plus 6 per cent interest.

"If the taxpayer pays up, the revenue service does not make the case public. Thus Senator McCarthy's federal tax returns again could escape public scrutiny—unless some congressional committee were to subpena them.

"The tax agents' confidence in their claim against Sen. McCarthy stems partly from the fact that Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews is taking a stern attitude toward Sen. McCarthy's lack of detailed records to support his tax returns.

Applicable Law

"The law states that if Internal Revenue finds that a taxpayer has receipts that are not clearly classifiable as non-taxable, Internal Revenue can rule that the receipts are subject to taxation.

"This is the course Internal Revenue is following in the McCarthy case. It means that the 'burden of proof' falls on the senator. To avoid the taxes he must prove where he got the disputed money, and he must prove that the money is not subject to taxation.

"This may turn out to be a formidable task for Sen. McCarthy in view of his admittedly sketchy bookkeeping.

"At least part of the disputed money represents contributions to Sen. McCarthy. Friends, acquaintances and members of the public have sent him sums ranging from thousands of dollars down to pennies.

"Sometimes the donors specified the money was to be used to fight communism. Sometimes the donors did not say how Sen. McCarthy was to use the money . . .

"Internal Revenue agents are understood to be insisting that showdown conferences with Sen. McCarthy begin by Sept. 1 regardless of what other duties Sen. McCarthy might have."

Baden-Baden Reclaims Place As Europe's Elegant Play Spot

BADEN-BADEN, Germany — (NANA) — The little town where the Romans washed has reclaimed its place as an international playground where fortunes pass over the gambling boards and the servants wore white silk breeches and buckled shoes.

Gambling in the elegant casino, the spa administration admits, has lifted Baden-Baden from the ashes of disuse and bombing imposed by World War II.

Thousands of Visitors

Reopened in 1950 after the roulette wheel was allowed to click and spin in Germany again, the gaming center helped Baden-Baden draw 118,000 visitors last year, surpassing the prewar record of 109,000.

This year, officials here confidently predict, the crowds in the opulent concert halls, galleries and around the spinning wheels will be even bigger.

Under Baden-Baden's entertainment schedule, an orchestra plays three concerts daily, noted conductors and soloists give frequent performances and the theatre offers many a premiere. Art exhibitions, bridge parties, fashion shows and dances are in almost constant progress.

As a new phase of its comeback to old prestige, the town of 40,000 year-round residents has recently become a favorite site for European conferences of industrial, political and scientific associations, whose meetings usually center around the casino.

The romans had already discovered the hot springs a century after the birth of Christ and the remains of their baths were found a century ago. Source of the natural hot-water system is 6,000 feet below the surface. With the water's temperature of 115-153 degrees, higher than that of any other European mineral spring, the climate of Baden-Baden is almost subtropical—so mild that trees may be green and flowers bloom in December.

Developed by Frenchmen

It was largely through the patronage of two Frenchmen — Jacques Benazet and his son Edouard—that Baden-Baden first developed into a world resort during the 19th century. Thanks to them a racing course was built at the village of Iffezhiem nearby, and world-renowned "derbies" were organized. Jacques Banazet was also a gambler in the grand style. He rented the casino and made it the main meeting place of the town.

Aided by Baden-Baden's remarkable climate and natural beauty, he was soon attracting royal and cosmopolitan society from all over Europe.

In the middle of the 19th century his son Edouard erected the present Kurhaus, which remains one of the most magnificent casinos in the world. The four gaming rooms of its spielbank are in French classical styles with a heavy dose of German barrooms. Heavy red velvet, scarlet plush, crystal chandeliers, gilt seats and the servants in their tight white pants again draw crowds by reviving a vanished era of fabulous fashions.

a minimum of $12 to a maximum of $20 per week.

The company contends it is paying an average hourly wage of $2.39, compared with $2.03 by its principal competitors. Studebaker reported a net loss of nearly nine million dollars for the first six months of this year.

Top executives last April accepted salary reductions ranging from 20 to 30 per cent on all salaries above $20,000 a year.

Turned Down Earlier

Today's balloting is the second vote on the proposal for pay reductions of the other employes.

Nearly 5,000 members of the union a week ago rejected the proposed agreement. Union officials said the vote was "very close." They said, however, that the attendance at the original meeting represented less than half the union's present membership of 10,500.

Two days later, the company gave notice that it would end its present contract with the union in 60 days.

Louis J. Horvath, president of the local, then announced a second meeting would be held to reconsider the proposal. He said the decision to take another vote was made unanimously by the 20-man executive board. Horvath said the board had received a number of petitions asking to reconsider.

He estimated that nearly 8,000 members of the union would attend today's meeting.

Traffic Cases

Five motorists were fined a total of $75 and costs in Municipal Court Wednesday for traffic violations. Three were fined $15 and costs each for speeding. They were Beatrice C. Dunn of Worthington, Charles M. Ink, 46, of near Tiffin, and Fred B. Alexander of Miami, Fla.

Walter R. Murnane, 25, of Columbus was fined $15 and costs for crossing a yellow line, and John H. Sidlecki, 46, of Cleveland paid $15 and costs for passing in a no passing zone.

Ashley Residents Still Requested To Conserve on Water

ASHLEY — Conservation of water is still extremely imperative in Ashley.

Normally from 100 to 125 gallons pumped per minute supply the requirements of the village, but now only 50 gallons per minute are being pumped.

Engineers, recently consulted by the village water board, are installing a chlorination system which is hoped to remove the taste of chlorine which has been objectionable. The use of the new well will probably start next week which will help the situation to some degree.

Galion Juvenile Named In $76,000 Court Action

BUCYRUS — Darrell Leon Sherman, a minor of Galion, is named defendant in a $76,400 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Joseph Sheckler of Galion.

Sheckler alleges he was permanently injured in a collision between his auto and one driven by the defendant last Nov. 22 at the intersection of Grange and Cherry Sts. in Galion. The plaintiff charges that the defendant failed to observe a stop sign and crashed his vehicle into the Sheckler auto.

According to the plaintiff's petition, his car was demolished and he suffered severe injuries to his back, arms and legs. Sheckler states he was forced to wear a plaster body cast for six weeks and later was fitted with a back brace, which must be worn six moths.

Loses Russian Roulette

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An hour-long game of Russian roulette ended here yesterday with 16-year-old Randy Martin blinded in the right eye. A gun discharged as he and two other boys played with the snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver. The bullet traveled through the front of his head, shattering the eye. His condition was listed as poor. Police said another youth, 15, fired the gun thinking it had been emptied.

this administration assumed responsibility."

Then the President declared:

"And since 1953 was a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be, it follows that over-all performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

Eisenhower said 1952 was the best year before his regime took office.

Unemployment Up

The President said in today's report that unemployment "is now greater than during the time of the Korean War."

But at that time he said joblessness in recent months has not been larger than in comparable months of 1949 and 1950.

"Moreover," he said, "the rate of unemployment has shown some tendency to diminish of late. This is one of the numerous signs of economic improvement."

Among other such signs Eisenhower said, are these:

"Retail sales have been recently rising again. Business expenditures on capital expansion and improvement are continuing at a high rate. New construction contracts are running well above the level of a year ago.

"Inventories have been reduced and are now in better adjustment to current sales. The financial markets have been displaying great strength. The level of business and consumer confidence in the economic future is high and improving."

The President said the economic program being enacted by the present Congress "marks a milestone in constructive legislation." He said the program, which he did not detail, will help reduce unemployment and stimulate enterprise and development in all directions.

"In the months and years ahead, we must continue to bring knowledge, cool judgment, and a concern for people to the consideration of economic problems," the report said. "In the measure that we do this, we may look forward with great confidence to the future."

Court Order Sends Touhy Back to Jail

CHICAGO (AP)—After two days of freedom, Roger (the Terrible) Touhy, was back in jail today and faced the possibility of spending the rest of his life in prison.

The 56-year-old prohibition era gangster's brief period of liberty, after more than 20 years in prison was ended yesterday on order of the U.S. Court of Appeals. The Court ruled Touhy must be held in Stateville Prison pending a hearing of the state's appeal of his release.

Touhy was freed on $10,000 bond Monday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes. He ruled that the Capone era gang leader's 99-year-sentence of 1934 for the kidnaping of John (Jake The Barber) Factor was procured on perjured testimony.

Workers Feel Milk Cut Good as Wage Increase

DETROIT (AP)—Union employes of six Detroit dairies have approved an agreement to cut the price of home-delivered milk by three cents a quart—in lieu of a pay raise.

Brunson Gilbert, president of Local 155 of the AFL Milk Drivers and Dairy Employes Union, said the workers first sought a $12-a-week pay increase.

But they decided to forego it, he said, if the dairies would cut prices the equivalent of a $12-a-week per route. The three-cent reduction would benefit all customers who use more than 30 quarts a month.

Gilbert said the union men felt they could increase their sales enough to make up the $12—and help milk-consuming families at the same time. The six dairies serve about 60,000 customers.

Marion Man Found Guilty of Shooting Charge in Morrow

MOUNT GILEAD—Lunas Johnson, 54, of near Marion, was found guilty by a 12-member jury here Wednesday afternoon of maliciously shooting with intent to kill. The charge carries a penalty of 1-20 years in prison. No date has been set for sentencing.

Johnson was convicted of shooting Everett Richendollar, 52, of near Cardington in an episode July 11 which began on Route 529, four miles west of Cardington. Johnson reportedly shot Richendollar once while their two cars moved side by side down the highway and several times later during a scuffle at a nearby farm house. Johnson had accused Richendollar of taking his wife.

The trial opened Tuesday morning in Morrow County Common Pleas Court before Judge Leland Rutherford. The jury began its deliberation at 3:15 p.m. returned its verdict at 3:55 p.m. yesterday.

No Western statesman is sure what will be the French National Assembly's verdict — scheduled to come this month — but on it hangs the fulfillment or repudiation of the Allies' joint promise to grant the Germans sovereignty and welcome them as comrades in arms in Western Europe's defense. The United States and Britain say they will go ahead with their plan for Germany, even without France, but that would mean still more delay.

Standard Oil Boosts Ohio Price of Gasoline

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio increased its gasoline price by six-tenths of a cent today at all levels—jobber, dealer and retail—through most parts of the state.

New retail price for Sohio's regular gasoline is 26 and 9-10 cents, and the premium product, raised by the same amount, is 29 and 7-10.

Some areas where Sohio maintains depressed prices were not affected, the company said.

The move follows a general price reduction of 1 and 6-10 cents at company-operated stations, leaving current retail prices one cent below what the firm posted prior to June 4.

come, and appear prepared to meet it. While two years of skyrocketing population and economic gains will come to a halt and begin to slide gradually downward, the community's economic graphs will level off on a much higher plateau than it had in 1952.

Sales Boom

Portsmouth department store sales during the last two years have led the entire 4th Federal Reserve District in percentage of increase almost every month. And the percentage of increase of Scioto County sales tax receipts has led all Ohio counties, except booming little Pike County.

And many businessmen, including Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce leaders, believe this section of the Ohio Valley will continue its industrial growth, adding to the 60-million-dollar improvement program which Detroit Steel Corp. completed here this year.

Evidence that A-plant construction is about at the halfway mark, is the AEC announcement that about 500 million dollars has been spent on it so far. The original estimate was for a total of $1,219,000,000.

Eighty-five million dollars has been spent for wages since construction began and the payroll now is about 10 million dollars a month. The present payroll figure, AEC explained, includes only the fixed-fee contractor and subcontractors. It excludes lump-sum contractors and architect-engineers.

All this money has brought in a huge, steady stream of materials—86,000 tons of steel (enough to build almost two battleships), 415,000 cubic yards of concrete and thousands of tons of other materials.

Ohio Valley Electric Corp. a combination of 15 private utilities, is building two giant power plants near Gallipolis, Ohio, and Madison Ind., to provide the A-plant with a steady flow of 1,800,000 kilowatts of power to operate its many motors 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Twice Detroit's Consumption

That's about twice the power the entire area of industrial Detroit consumes.

Permanent buildings going up on the 3,600-acre plant site are expected to be under roof before winter. Some 4½ million square feet of roof area have been completed.

The contractors have used 45½ million kilowatt hours of electric power already, at a cost, up to June 30, of $350,000.

Kiewit had awarded 110 subcontracts as of July 30 totaling 76 million dollars. Kiewit also has awarded 310 material contracts totaling 145 millions. Ohio firms have been cut in for 60 millions of this.

A total of 30,800 employes have had general orientation courses in the last two years—courses given to all new employes.

The turnover—that is, workers quitting their jobs before they are finished—has been relatively low, AEC officials said. The 7,000 difference in the orientation total and actual present employment is accounted for in part by finished subcontracts as well as by turnover.

Despite the tremendous size of the job and its attendant hazards, the safety record has been remarkable.

William Crozer, AEC safety engineer, likes to think it was because of careful planning. His favorite slogan is: "This job was engineered for safety."

The two-year record: 1.8 lost-time accidents per million man-hours for the 36 million man-hours already worked. This compared with a frequency rate of 3.16 for all AEC installations, 14.25 for the Ohio construction industry and 17.34 for construction nationwide.

Three men have lost their lives on the project. One fell to his death, a truck driver making a delivery to the project was crushed to death and a third fatality was attributed in part to a heart attack.

Feeding 23,000 workers on the site which covers about five square miles has been handled by B. F. Brown, Inc., which operates the plant cafeteria.

Many of the construction workers carry their own lunches, but the cafeteria has served 800,000 meals during the 16 months it has been in operation. 2,600,000 servings have been made from field canteens scattered about the site and 320,000 box lunches have been sold.

Impact of the billion-dollar project has spread throughout the four-county so-called Portsmouth-Chillicothe critical defense area. This includes Scioto, Ross, Pike and Jackson counties, all of which have had spurts in population and in business of all sorts.

10,000 Increase

Although there has been no accurate count since the 1950 census reported 36,790 population for Portsmouth, the chamber of commerce estimated an increase of about 10,000 in the city and its immediate suburbs.

Waverly, county seat of Pike County 12 miles north of the A-plant site, had 1,679 in 1950, estimates its present population at 5,500 and expects to grow to 10,000 in a few years—although more conservative estimates say that mark is too high.

To meet the boom in school pupils brought in by the increased population, Portsmouth is spending $3,600,000 on additions to its buildings. Waverly is building a new grade school and a high school addition. Piketon is building a new grade school, Jackson is building a new six-room school and scores of rural schools are expanding their facilities.

Pike County's school enrollment has more than doubled from 4,439 in 1952 to 9,560 for the beginning of the coming term.

The U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare has allotted to date $3,854,000 for new school buildings in Pike, Scioto and Jackson counties, in addition to local funds.

A 16-million-dollar highway is nearing completion between Portsmouth and Chillicothe. The whole 44 miles will be a four-lane superhighway, straightening out the old curves and eliminating rail crossings on the old U. S. 23.

In another year, the remaining 46 miles north to Columbus will be a four-lane divided highway.

Helping to house the big influx of new population are 3,008 trailers in the four-county area, divided up like this: Pike County 2,267, Scioto County 353, Ross County 221, Jackson County 167.

Portsmouth has issued building permits for 540 new homes and apartments since August 1952. Chillicothe, where many of the top-level AEC and Goodyear executives have built homes, has topped this with a reported 660.

The Public Housing Administration put up 250 temporary homes at Waverly and 150 at Piketon. In addition, the Federal Housing Administration has financed 800 new homes at Waverly and 145 at Jackson.

Municipal Improvements

While Portsmouth and Chillicothe were pretty much able to absorb their new population with existing public utilities, Waverly is building from scratch one million dollars' worth of waterworks and sewer lines and Piketon is investing $66,000 in water and sewer improvements.

Private utilities — power, gas and telephone companies — have dumped hundreds of thousands of dollars into extensions of service.

The churches, too, have prospered. A survey among representative denominations in Portsmouth showed membership up from 4 to 25 per cent, for an average of 17 per cent, during the last two years. And contributions have risen, too, the pastors say.

Over $1,400 Given To Bucyrus Insect Fogging Campaign

BUCYRUS — More than $1,400 was contributed by Bucyrus residents to the Junior Chamber of Commerce's anti-insect fogging campaign, which has been waged here this summer, Donald P. Lutz, Jaycees' president, announced today.

Residents of the west half of Bucyrus were contacted Monday night in a house-to-house canvass by Jaycees, and contributed $700. A similar amount was collected Tuesday night when homes in the east half of the city were contacted.

Twenty-eight Jaycees participated in the Monday night solicitations and 22 on Tuesday night, Lutz said. Co-chairman of the funds committee are Jack Collins and Ralph Hubble. Contributors to the fund were offered tickets to the Jaycees' second annual ice cream and cake social at Annuller Park next Wednesday. Each Jaycee wife will bake three cakes and a program of special entertainment and contests is being planned.

The fogging campaign already has cost the organization $1,000 this year and officers estimated between $300 and $400 more will be spent before the campaign ends.

Atom Bill

doesn't, the measure may go back to Senate-House conference for another try at compromise.

The legislation provides for a sweeping new atomic program allowing private operation of civilian nuclear plants, a limited sharing of information with America's allies and other changes in the basic 1946 atomic energy law. But the debate-curbing agreement left uncertain the bill's prospects for final passage without further change.

Senate critics, who want to send the measure back to conference with instructions to take disputed patent provisions out of the compromise version, today won a new recruit in Sen. Smathers (D-Fla).

Smathers said he would support the effort to substitute compulsory patent-sharing for a provision in the revised bill that would permit regular, exclusive patents on civilian atomic developments.

The Florida senator told a newsman he thought the vote tomorrow would "be very close. It might be decided by not more than three votes."

Deputies Just Can't Buy 'Indian Massacre' Yarn

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 29-year-old Columbus man told sheriff's deputies he was "involved in an Indian massacre" and saw two men and two women "scalped by Chief Bluefeather's tribe."

That's how blood became smeared throughout the Mifflin Twp. home of Elmore Moore, Rudolph Krisovenski said.

But the deputies were inclined to believe Krisovenski had slashed his hands in smashing a front glass to enter the home and smeared the blood while looting the house.

They charged him with grand larceny and burglary.

Short Briefs

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Up here in the Berkshires in Massachusetts where many who live in the big cities come to be amateur farmers and musicians and to enjoy the peace and quiet of a sylvan sanctuary, two arguments have filled the summer with rage and outrage.

One is about a prison camp which the reformers in Boston seek to impose upon the communities in these hills that are unpoliced and unguarded because the kindly people here have never needed to spend their money on more than local constables who devote a very small part of their time to law and order of which, generally speaking, we have sufficient.

The original plan was to put the prison camp on October Mountain in the vicinity of a number of summer camps for boys and girls.

The Massachusetts prison authorities say that they will screen the prisoners so that if any escape they will not molest the children in the camps, which makes me wonder if the Boston bureaucrats do not hope that some will escape to save expenses. Nobody wants the prison camp in his backyard but would not mind being humane at someone else's expense, which is the way of the do-gooder everywhere.

THIS PRISON camp excitement is however not as stimulating as the anger of the local townspeople in Lenox, Lee, Great Barrington and Stockbridge over shorts and briefs. (I am told that what I call briefs the girls refer to as short shorts.) I have noticed that an increasing number of men and women come to the Tanglewood concerts in various stages of undress.

None has yet appeared in the nude but some are not far from it, particularly young women with ugly calves. Apparently, being of such an age I notice the ugly calves. The ladies say that something worn to cover their uppers part way makes them look ugly all the way, which is a little beyond my esthetics.

In the years when I lived in the Far East, most men during the summer months wore short pants and long stockings and looked rather handsome in the outfit which originated among the British troops in India. The costume was cool and suitable to the climate. No one would think of wearing anything that was so short as to be brief.

The sublimated fig leaf had not yet become a popular wearing apparel for modern young ladies and gentlemen. There was an unbreakable rule that shorts had to be spic and span and well laundered.

THE NIGHT I was listening to The Damnation of Faust by Berlioz which demands its measure of concentration, two females wandered about dressed in some thing called a pedal pusher, made of nondescript cotton cloth which clung to their bodies as though pasted on. The color of the cloth was uncertain and gave some evidence of the use of too powerful a detergent in the washing machine.

On the [illegible] they wore something that covered less than more and seemed not to serve any very useful purpose. To top it all they wore their hair so that it looked like a hog's tail which is what my young daughter told me it was intended to be.

They were stockingless and sockless but did wear sneakers that caused them to scuff as they walked. It was an exhibition in tastelessness if not distaste.

I cannot be arbitrary about what is taste in clothes. I have lived in countries where men wear skirts and women trousers and I have seen women who strapped themselves to look like boys and men who bosomed themselves fashionably.

GOOD TASTE has something to do with local custom and it is now in New England to wear briefs. Ugliness is always unforgivable and the short that becomes a beef is ugly.

When thousands are gathered in one place it is so many are badly dressed and wear clothes that only accentuate the imperfections of the human figure. It makes one wonder what has happened to proper manners and good taste.

Perhaps it bespeaks the nineteenth century reactionary to consider manners; yet they did make life more orderly. And if as some philosophers believe manners are the externalization of morals then these new popular summer fashions must have been designed by minds that have never heard the line.

"Beauty is truth, truth beauty."

Ex-Liquor Agent Says Shakedowns Widespread

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Liquor Control agent William L. Morrison, 25, yesterday testified before the Franklin County Grand Jury his typed records of payoffs received from liquor permit holders on alleged shakedowns prompted a statewide liquor department probe.

Morrison, now employed by a Columbus private detective bureau, told reporters at least 15 per cent of the present enforcement agents are involved in shakedown practices.

Morrison was fired from the liquor department after being arrested on a charge of occupying a Cincinnati hotel room with a 16-year-old girl last February.

BOY DIES IN CAVE-IN

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Goodpaster, 7, was killed yesterday in the cave-in of a ditch which was being dug for a septic tank. The boy apparently suffocated, the authorities said. They were unable to determine whether he had climbed into the ditch or whether he had been standing at the edge when the cave-in occurred.

Business Must Move

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — The state fire marshal's office has condemned and ordered closed Logan's largest business building, the three-story brick James Block Building. A large beam in the attic collapsed yesterday and sections of roof crashed through the unoccupied third floor. At least one citizen claimed there must not be a third floor, had been condemned either.

Spy Schools

By Victor Riesel

ROME

Soviet espionage here is so vast and its spies so successful, that Italy and the U.S. might as well plan our secret common defense and atomic strategy in cellophane-walled rooms equipped with loud speakers.

RIESEL

The basis of this espionage network — which has all our secrets, believe me — is a system of 'worker spies' trained in special 'spy schools' and placed in virtually all sensitive government and industrial posts by the Communist-run Italian General Confederation of Labor (CGIL).

These 'spy schools' were pointed out to me in several of the large cities — the Chicagos of northern Italy. They exist not only on the roads to Rome but in many of Italy's big communities.

THE BRIGHTEST of the trainees are regularly run behind the Iron Curtain to special schools in Prague, Budapest and Bucharest for graduate training. Then they are returned to Italy for infiltration into those agencies through which pass the confidential data not only of Italy, but of the entire free world.

I write this for example as the Italian courts consider the case of a Mario Ciuffi, an official of the Ministry of Industry, accused of stealing the most classified NATO military and naval procurement documents. Investigation reveals that he is a member of the Soviet's Italian labor federation here.

There is for another example the Precision Office of the Italian Army's Defense Ministry on the Via Cuido Reni, some place [illegible] away from where I write.

This is one of the free world's most sensitive headquarters. Although it passes the latest information on precision mechanisms which make for a push button war, there such equipment is tested, designed and even invented before they get out latest data, too.

Out of about 900 workers and clerks in this precision office, half are Communists and fellow travelers. Red party publications are quietly passed about and read right inside the agency.

The disciplined Communists in it know every one of its secrets. And to add a musical comedy touch, the Communist party newspaper UNITA howled in print not too long ago when two Communist officials were transferred out of this Italian Army headquarters. The transfer was dictatorial action by the Ministry of Defense, screamed UNITA.

THE ITALIAN ARMY itself, which is somewhat integrated with our defense strategy, has more than 80,000 civilian workers on its payroll. Trade union leaders such as Giulio Pastore, leader of the anti-Communist labor federation CISL (supported by and working with U.S. labor), tell me that thousands of these Army workers are members of the Soviet controlled Italian labor federation.

At least 60,000 belong to the Communist labor outfit. Thousands of them are the disciplined party street fighters who make up the Italian Communist party's revolutionary underground army.

These activists of our secret enemies constantly propagandize the Italian soldiers — urging them to turn their guns on American troops when the time comes. Take it for granted that these Communist workers are organized to funnel all new military information into party channels for transmission to Moscow.

Why aren't the [illegible]ies apprehended? Well it must be understood that the Commies know what the Italian counter intelligence knows. Police and army officials have discovered a hundred times over that secret orders and files of each the Communists long before they are received by subordinate police officials and army men being sent into action.

FOR EXAMPLE, when the Italian Army moved into the province of Ferrara, during the farm workers general strike some seven weeks ago they hit the road on secret orders. These were sealed. But the army officials soon discovered that the Communist farm labor union chiefs were aware of the exact routes the troops were to take — long before the soldiers themselves knew!

Had the Communist labor leaders not been under orders from the Comintern to behave themselves during this Russian lull by the Soviet controlled farm union chiefs could have thrown up road blocks and even machine gun nests and some artillery against the regular army.

Key Communist workers take orders from some 4,500 highly trained Communist labor chiefs. Thousands of Soviet trained workers and officials have vital posts on the state operated railroads, the federally owned radio and television networks, banks, big military arsenals, naval depots at Taranto, La Spezia and Venice, the Labor Ministry, the Finance Ministry, the Post and Telegraph Bureau and in the Transport Ministry. And some are at the division chief level.

Whom do you think these officials and workers will fight for in the showdown?

Model Makes Good

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Many stage struck girls dream of becoming a fashion model and going on from there to fame and fortune in Hollywood.

HAL BOYLE

If you have that dream girl you might as well ditch it now unless you like to play the long odds.

This is on the advice of Mona Freeman the exception who proves the rule. She won attention as a child model and her pretty face adorned many a magazine cover before she made the grade in the movies.

But modeling isn't gone with a few stepping stone to a film career, she remarked. Although many people seem to think it is.

Offhand the only former models I can recall who went into the films are Lauren Bacall, Gene Tierney, Jinx Falkenberg, Phyllis Kirk and (oh Marilyn Monroe here are probably a number of others. But comparatively speaking, they are few.

MONA who at 28 still looks like a Rhode college freshman quit modeling at 17 to try her luck in the movies. She has made between 20 and 30 films, the latest being Battle Cry, based on a best selling novel about the Marines by Leon Uris.

After working her way into that $1,500 a week and up bracket Mona is in a good position to compare her careers as model and actress.

Modeling is an art but it is [illegible] simple to learn, she said. "A girl who can learn to model at all can do so in a year.

And if she hits the top she can make $6000 a week or more. A girl doing that well at modeling quite often doesn't see why she should throw away that kind of money to take a chance on flopping in Hollywood.

"It is a big chance to take. A model merely has to photograph well. All she needs is looks and poise. But an actress has to develop a personality that appeals to the public.

Mona also believes her old modeling friends may stick out their claws at this: that an actress has to do something every moment at her work that few models are required to do. She has to T-H-I-N-K.

"Acting is a job a really tough job. But I like it. It is never a grind—never a dull existence. But even after you learn your craft and practice it well that doesn't mean success necessarily. You still have to put yourself over with the public."

THE PUBLIC is a strange and capricious god to all entertainers. Mona still as stage struck as the day she played Little Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" during her high school days, retains a wondering awe over the mysterious factors that influence the public.

"The thing that gains you the most attention may be something that as an actress you regard as the least of your efforts," she said.

"For example when they were filming 'Dear Ruth' I was told to make a noise to annoy my father. He had grounded me and was trying to read the paper.

"Without even thinking I let out something between a long sigh and a groan of exasperation. It wasn't even rehearsed. But that ridiculous sound caught on. Teen age kids all over the country picked it up and made it popular.

"Isn't it funny? You can work over a scene for weeks and nobody pays any attention to it. Then one day's work, something you thought nothing of at the time, may put you over in a big way.

You never know in this business what will be the thing that attracts attention. I suppose it is this doubt and gamble that makes acting interesting."

Boy, 14, Makes Habit Of Leaving His Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 14-year-old lad who told police he has amnesia sits at juvenile detention home today waiting for his mother to come from New York.

The boy identified as John Joseph Anthony Henderson, 13, was found Sunday, sleeping in a detective's automobile and said then he didn't know who he was. Police contacted authorities at Rochester, N. Y., after the boy "remembered" he had been injured in an auto accident there.

His mother, Mrs. Anthony Henderson of the Bronx, N. Y., later got in touch with Rochester police. She said the boy skipped off a train there Friday while she was bringing him home from Buffalo where he had fled earlier. He has run away from home 43 times, his mother said.

Speed Construction

New Building Materials And Techniques Cut Cost

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders are cutting corners today to speed factory, office and store construction —and to pare costs.

Here are a few of the new devices and materials that are changing building methods as well as the face of America.

Concrete floor slabs piled like pancakes—then lifted into position by hydraulic jacks.

Sidewalls prefabricated and swung into place by derricks—to sheaf an entire skyscraper in the matter of hours.

Porcelain - enamel panels fastened onto an old building for a quick face lifting.

Walls entirely of glass swung into place—leaving special problems for window cleaners.

Prefabrication Booms

Prefabrication is getting a big boost these days in the efforts of builders to beat high labor construction costs. Competition is spreading among materials Steel, aluminum, glass, porcelain are giving brick and stone a race for exterior walls. Plywood and plastics vie with lath and plaster for interior partitions.

Teaming ready made concrete floors and steel walls can make for a speed operation, according to the Truscon Steel Division of Republic Steel Corp., which has a window-wall unit for sale.

First, reinforced concrete floors are poured on the ground, stacked like flapjacks with a thin layer of talcum-like powder keeping them apart while they dry. Hydraulic jacks raise each in turn to its place on bracketed structural columns. They have to start with the top floor and work down.

Then four - man crews swing Truscon's ready-made glass and steel wall units into place. Each unit has complete exterior and interior wall finishes, with window and insulation built in.

The pour-and-raise floors and window-walls were used by Clemson College in building a new dormitory on its Clemson, S. C. campus. Truscon says its four - man crews erected 1,400 square feet of wall space, completed inside and out, in a day, or in 32 man hours.

The same units were also used in the United Air Lines Office building at Chicago's airport and Truscon says they will be used in the Oklahoma State Fair's office building.

Aluminum Panels

Builders are also using aluminum panels, die-stamped and prefabricated for enclosing office buildings, stressing the speed with which the exterior walls can be completed.

Glass panels fitted into frames furnish entire walls of some new buildings. They can be bolted quickly into place. A New York bank is raising an "all - glass" banking office building on Fifth Avenue.

The chief problem comes later—cleaning them. Where the glass walls are sealed and fixed, they are cleaned from the outside by cabs or platforms lowered from the roof by mechanisms that are part of the building itself.

In some of the new buildings the glass is put into frames that are pivoted vertically, so that they can be spun around for cleaning from the inside.

For some large skyscrapers, window cleaning is a full-time job —the first window getting dirty again by the time the last one is washed.

Porcelain-enamel faced steel panels are also being used by builders on both new and old structures as an outside finish.

A sturdy, but dated, building can be given a fresh look, builders point out, by fastening the panels to a light steel framework attached to the old facings. It's been used on factories, office buildings, hospitals and service stations.

Presto, and an old Victorian pile can be made as young and fetching as the newest Hollywood starlet.

Children Get Blame For Train Derailment

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Mischievous kids" have been blamed by assistant manager Hal Stewart for the derailment of the miniature train at Gwynn Oak Amusement Park in which 13 persons were injured.

Stewart said 35 to 40 persons were aboard when the train derailed and two cars overturned yesterday. Nine of the injured were children.

Stewart said the man operating the train had told him "he had stopped the train two or three times earlier in the day to take rocks off the tracks."

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Tulips can bloom on your table in mid summer We're talking about Toast Tulips, to be sure! Made from slices of enriched yeast raised bread brushed with melted butter or margarine tucked into muffin cups and toasted in the oven you can use them many ways—from main course accompaniments to desserts

For a pretty main dish fill the Toast Tulips with cooked green peas serve with a sauce of mayonnaise lemon juice and minced parsley or dill accompany with hamburgers Other times fill the Toast Tulips with a well seasoned cream sauce and hard cooked eggs diced meat or fish Or with cooked leftover vegetables mixed together in a cheese sauce

When we turned the Toast Tulips into Peach Custard Tartlets recently and served them for dessert they met with real praise The crunchy bread is delicious with its coating of butter sugar and cinnamon

ADDITION TO MAIN COURSE Toast cups are filled with green peas

Anyone for Shinny?

Toys and Games of Dad's Day Are Just Dreams Now But They Gave Him a Full and Exciting Boyhood

Are modern boys and girls despite toys and games which run from simple mechanisms to highly imaginary interplanetary communication and transportation systems missing some of the joys of youth?

In other words do they play run - sheepy - run, duck - off - rock or shinny?

Do they know how to send a message to Mars up a kite string or make a dart?

Do any of them ever cut a propeller out of a piece of tin and send it whirring high into the air off a spool sent spinning by a string wound around it?

MANY A MAN now in his late 40's or 50's is apt to recall these boyhood things of his as he pays out important money for toys for his own children or grandchildren In many cases an austere family budget forced him to make his own fun rather than buy it Yet he had fun and lots of it out of his own ingenuity

Take those homemade darts for instance You split about a one-inch strip off a shingle thinned out the center into a shaft and left a vane on the thin end and a point on the other

Then you notched the shaft near the point Get a good whippy piece of willow tie a string on it and slip a knot on the other end of the string into the notch and you had a missle that you could send a country mile

Those bows and arrows dad used to make could hit the mark with the best sold today too

AND THE TIN propellers of dad's day could run the legs off a good sturdy kid They were probably six inches long and well-engineered even according to today's standards for props To make a launching device the boys first hamered a long nail in the end of a stick

Two small nails then were partly driven into a spool Two holes in the center of the propeller fitted over these nails The spool was placed over the nail in the stick and a long strand of string was wrapped around the spool The propeller then was fitted onto the spool and the string was given a hefty yank and away went the propeller

By bending the prop into different pitches the height and distance it traveled could be controlled

YOU HAD TO BE careful with those tin propellers though Put them on upside down and you got a cut on the nose or cheek

Another type of small propeller was whittled out of wood with a wood stem inserted where the axle would be

You worked this one by putting the stem between the palms and twisting it quickly

It would take off in a hurry

AND WHAT'S BECOME of the game called peggy?

You took a peg about three inches long and an inch square and pointed each end

Numbers one through four were put into the four sides consecutively You would drop the peggy to the ground If it landed with the side showing the number three up, you got three swats at it with a special bat

To swat the peggy you would hit the pointed end with the bat and it would jump into the air You had to hit it again before it struck the ground Miss and it counted one stroke The competitor who got the most distance out of his numbers of tries won the game

THEN THERE WAS mumbletypeg which was played with a jack-knife In this game the contestant would flip the knife off his nose ear or elbow or over his arm and attempt to land it with the point in the ground A baseball game also was played with a jackknife Dad can show you this if he remembers

Duck - off - rock usually was played at a street intersection which accounts in a large way for its disappearance today An awful lot of autos would get dent ed fenders were it played today as it was when dad was a kid

Each member of the gang would get a good sized rock or goon-ey' and the boy who was it would place his on a brick in the center of the intersection

THE OTHERS standing on a crosswalk would attempt to knock his rock off the brick by rolling or throwing their rocks at it The one who was it had to tag one of the others who had retrieved his rock and was trying to get back to base

However he couldn't tag while his rock was off its base in the center of the street This really could be a bruising game

So could shinny You played it with homemade clubs similar to those used in hockey and the puck could be a tin can or a stone or anything else that was handy And they didn't call it shinny for nothing Often shins were struck harder than the puck

RUN - SHEEPY - RUN had its thrills and excitement The kids would choose up sides and each would have a captain The leader would hide his team and return to the tree or barn door used as home base and draw a map

The opposing team then would start out in search of hidden players When the first got hot the captain would call 'the low sheepy' Then when the opponents reached the hiding place he would call 'run sheepy run' and all would dash for the home base

If the majority of hidden players were tagged out the other team had a turn at hiding

AND DO KIDS these days send parachutes made out of paper napkins up their kite strings on a bent pin flicking them off after they have reached a respectable height?

Those messages to Mars used to stir young imaginations You merely took a round piece of paper a few inches in diameter and put a small hole in the middle Then you slit the paper from one side to the hole and put it on the kite string pinning or pasting the slit edges together again

Sometimes you would 'train down' the string to get the message on its way but usually the breeze would take the message up the string If the kids were young enough it added enjoyment to kit flying

OLDSTERS RECALL that reasonable facsimile of a riot known as 'King of the Hill' The one who was 'it' got on top of a mound and the rest of the gang would try to get him off The one who succeeded then became king of the hill Quite often, explaining away those torn blue chambray shirts and corduroy trousers when you got home took away most of the glory of the conquest

Unsettling the order of things, was a rather good test of strength Two swinging on the legs of a third person tried to pull him off balance and then another joined in the scuffle The winner is for those boys who ere were an today is called outside sports such as football

Hoop - rolling was another time that didn't necessarily which had a fascination except the fact that it took some effort The hoop could have been a wheel off a discarded wagon or baby buggy with the spokes out er still in or knocked out The roller was made by cutting a section out of a wooden barrel hoop and nailing it onto the end of a stick If you got going enough you could make the hoop hop curve like everything

THEN THERE WAS the homemade variety of stilts around into some pretty tall affairs as adeptness in their use increased

Small fry who had mastered carpentry to a sufficient degree to make stilts bobbed around on tin cans in which holes had been punched and strings attached to hold onto

And those autos made of soap boxes with hubs buggy or roller skate wheels Boy they could go when all in a while there was fun [illegible] barrel staves

No Place Like Home

The other day on [illegible] program dedicated to keeping women from their housework for an hour every day, the [illegible] among other things [illegible] longlo[illegible] egg which the [illegible] perfect for some class meeting that she had thrilled scrambled eggs. But that [illegible] many years ago and he's long since passed on [illegible] and gone on to higher [illegible]. And so now I'm no [illegible] from time to time to see what the ladies [illegible] being tempted to buy. You never know. One day I was [illegible] and there were [illegible] that had turned into [illegible] everything but an operating table just by touching. Price: Only $195 too. An absolute [illegible] price.

J. CROSBY

And on the same program the demonstrated a power lawn mower which can be operated by remote control. You put a patch [illegible] and the darn thing goes around the lawn by itself, mowing up the children. That thing would steal too — put enough of hundred bucks which [illegible] could pay by swiping from the [illegible] money.

"HOME IS SUCH a nice home. I'm certainly surprised to find in Miss Arlene Francis's home so many things that I haven't got in mine. The other day Miss Francis brought aboard Mr. Jim Moran, the bearded deodorant expert, who was loaded at the moment with rabbit. It was Mr. Moran's thesis — a most debatable one, I never heard — that rabbits make wonderful house pets. Very easily housebroken, he said.

I don't know what effect [illegible] has on the American home, but it does give me the willies. I've seen Housewives dressed in their sporting life beaver coats filling the house with house-broken rabbits and chairs that recline at the touch of a button while their husbands are out in the front yard chasing [illegible] berserk power controlled lawn mower.

IN THE CULINARY department I'd half expected to hear a learned dissertation on how to cook a porpoise. If I had, I'd have crowed triumphantly because I'm fond of Miss Frances and her crew of chefs. I've already read in the Manchester Guardian a learned dissertation on how to cook a porpoise.

But in [illegible] change. Home went from the sublime to the [illegible] to ordinarily mundane. The women [illegible] to chirp of the Edmonton [illegible] was lecturing on how to [illegible] eggs. Eggs? She said quite some unidentified Frenchman [illegible] the consensus that he [illegible] the castle of cookery to chief.

Forthwith she proceeded to [illegible] how to boil an egg (you [illegible] shouldn't boil them to start out with) now to fix one and how to [illegible] person one. Some other day we'll cover scrambled eggs; she declined as the time ran out.

REMINDS ME OF THE TIME [illegible] many years ago when my sister came home from her home economics class meeting that she had thrilled scrambled eggs. But that [illegible] many years ago and he's long since passed on [illegible] and gone on to higher [illegible]. And so now I'm no [illegible] from time to time to see what the ladies [illegible] being tempted to buy. You never know. One day I was [illegible] and there were [illegible] that had turned into [illegible] everything but an operating table just by touching. Price: Only $195 too. An absolute [illegible] price.

I still think Home is a perfect show and a very useful one, perfect gifts for it does seem to me that in our [illegible] times [illegible] a considerable distance from the dust heap and disparaging realities of what is now referred to as homemaking.

There were a few useful items. One was a short talk by a Red Cross [illegible] Washington correspondent on what the Army was doing to keep up morale in Korea now that the shooting has stopped and a demonstration on how to plant an oriental poppy which I expect some beds must want to know.

Most encouraging bit of news came from Dorothy Connors, the show's Midwestern editor fresh in from Paris full of news about Christian Dior's new flapper look.

It's a flatter look but it isn't as bad as everyone thinks, Miss Connors said. It's reminiscent of the style before the first World War. It's sacky but Dior has made it pretty.

The men on the show hissed anyway.

100 Walk Out At Monsanto's Dayton Facility

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission's Monsanto Laboratory here early Monday was struck today by more than 100 workers.

The walkout came after 21 hours of negotiations between Local 420 United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, CIO, and the Monsanto Chemical Co., which operates the plant.

Thomas Tiefnes, administrative director of the laboratory, said the union had reduced its demands and the parties were a lot closer than former offers reflect.

Tiefnes said an original demand for what amounted to 5¢ cent more an hour—in pay raises and fringe benefits—had been reduced to about 30 cents. The original demands had included 18 cents across the board, freezing a 15 cent escalator item into the base rates, increase of sick leave and layoff pay, and five additional holidays, for a total of 11.

Tiefnes said he felt present wage scales—from $1.63 to $2.21 an hour—are on a par with other fabricating plants. Henry Adkinson, international representative for the union, contended the rate below other major industries and the company had increased the individual workload. The force has been reduced to 125 from the 250 employed in 1950 when the contract went into effect.

Pickets permitted salaried employes to enter the plant. The union also agreed to permit 16 union powerhouse workers to remain on duty to maintain power facilities.

Tiefnes said he is confident essential work can be continued.

EXAMINATION REQUIRED

ASHLEY — Children who will be six years old by Jan. 1 are required to have physical examinations, preventative shots and smallpox vaccinations before entering school this fall. Any child who has not been to the pre-school clinic or their own physician is urged to have this done immediately. Free service is available at the health department in Delaware during clinic hours on Thursday 3-4 p.m. or on Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m.

G. E. Land Retires After 31 Years in Service With Erie

Announcement has been received from the Cleveland office of George E. Lund, [illegible] to the superintendent of motive power for the Erie Railroad and former master mechanic in Meadville, will retire Aug. 31.

The announcement was made by C. K. James, superintendent of motive power, who said Lund will retire in accordance with the company's pension plan.

Lund, a resident of Meadville, Pa., has completed 38 years of service with the Erie starting as round house foreman at Meadville in 1916. He was general foreman at Huntington and Hammond, Ind., from 1918 to 1922. He was later master mechanic at Cleveland and assistant shop manager at Hornell, N. Y., before returning to Huntington as master mechanic. After a short period in 1927, he was assistant superintendent of the car department at Hornell and then served as master mechanic at Meadville and Marion.

In 1932 he returned to Meadville as general foreman and advanced to master mechanic at Buffalo in 1944. He was promoted to district master mechanic at Meadville in 1948 and received his present assignment in 1951.

Lund will be honored for his long service at the Erie at a dinner Aug. 26 at the Meadville Country Club.

Man Leaves Pen, Taken to Another

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Scott left Ohio Penitentiary after 10 years today only to be taken into custody immediately to serve a life sentence for murder in West Virginia.

As the 31-year-old New Martinsville, W. Va., man finished his sentence here for felonious assault he was met at the penitentiary gate by authorities who intend to return him to Moundsville, W. Va., state prison.

Scott was sentenced in West Virginia 26 years ago for the slaying of his 9-month-old child. He walked away from a chain gang after serving 15 years and came to Columbus in 1943.

Within seven months of his arrival here he drew the 10-year felonious assault charge.

Salesmen Rebel At Conference, Survey Shows

CHICAGO—(UP)—A social science study of the emotional make-up of a salesman recently showed that sales conferences fail miserably to get at the root of his personality.

Work sponsored by Gellert & Chicago advertising firm, arranged interviews between salesmen and psychologists.

They analyzed the typical salesman as "a rugged individualist," the firm said. The "depth interviews" showed the salesman is a persuasive person himself who likes to feel he is in power and that he is stronger than other personalities.

Sales meetings "trigger a chain reaction of confusion, bewilderment, anger, rebellion or total apathy and send the sales force back to work feeling they have been victimized by their bosses," according to conclusions made in the survey.

Because of the salesman's personality, he is not willing to be persuaded by "rah-rah lectures or soft-pedal admonishments of management," the firm reported. It concluded that meetings where management does all the talking and the salesmen the passive listening are bound to produce psychological rupture.

Edward H. Weiss, president of the company, suggested that the $20,000,000 spent annually by management on sales meetings could be more profitably used in "mutual exchanges" between sales and management. He asked for a concerted effort to let each salesman dramatize his own experiences and techniques" in order to bridge the psychological gap. He said the salesman can be sold if he is made to feel he is a teacher rather than a pupil.

NO ROOM AT INN

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP)— When fire damaged the home of H. S. Green, managing director of Western Hills Hotel, he called his hotel to get a room for himself and his family only to be told there was no vacancies. The Green family was forced to move in with neighbors.

The fellow at the next desk has returned from retracing a vacation trip he took in 1926 and says everything was just about the same except that its toreador pants and pizza pie where it once was knickers and hot dogs.

Remodeling of Polio Center Foreseen

Magnetic Springs Hotel Title Transferred to Foundation Hands

MAGNETIC SPRINGS — Remodeling work on the former Park Hotel here, which will be converted into the midwest's first polio rehabilitation center, will get under way in the near future.

Plans for remodeling the building to meet the needs of the new polio treatment center can go ahead, according to P. M. Curl, treasurer of the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation and chairman of its building committee, since the title of the hotel was recently transferred to the foundation.

When final arrangements can be made with the contractor, remodeling work will begin on the hotel, which was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Werum and their son, J. Ralston Werum of Columbus.

The polio rehabilitation center will serve polio patients from Ohio and neighboring states in a manner similar to the plan followed by the famous Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Plans call for an eventual capacity of approximately 130 patients with the first stage of the remodeling program to include 28 rooms in the south wing and necessary service areas for care of polio patients. It is hoped that the first stage of the program will be completed in time to open the doors to the first patients this fall.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has given its stamp of approval to the foundation and has made a grant of $25,000 for equipment.

The current fund-raising drive for $250,000 to finance the establishment of the foundation will continue until completed. Several other organizations have adopted the rehabilitation center as a group project and individual gifts are still being solicited. Anyone interested in contributing should send his gift to K. D. Kyle, Fund Drive Treasurer, Richwood, O.

The national Delta Theta Tau sorority at its convention in Chicago recently adopted the foundation as a project and voted $25,000 to the work. A current gift of $15,000 was made and contributions of $15,000 each in 1955 and 1956 are to follow.

Last year, the Ohio State Grange Association adopted the foundation as its project for 1953-54 and each of the 904 granges in the state was asked to contribute at least $100.

More than 200 post-polio patients from 32 Ohio counties as well as patients from Michigan, Indiana, Virginia, Illinois and West Virginia are receiving out-patient care and rehabilitation therapy under the supervision of Dr. K. W. Keever, founder of Magnetic Springs polio foundation idea. A complete brace shop is in operation with the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation in charge.

HANDING THE TITLE of the former hotel building to P. M. Curl, treasurer of the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation, is J. Ralston Werum, of Columbus, right. The former hotel building, which will soon be converted into the first complete polio rehabilitation center in this part of the country, can be seen in the background.

100 Young Turkeys Killed by Hoot Owl

SYKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — More than 100 young turkeys on a nearby farm were killed yesterday by a dive-bombing hoot owl.

Leonard S. Brushwood, who operates the turkey farm, said the owl got into a pen where he had about 250 turkeys. Shortly after sunrise, Brushwood said he saw the owl using its big wing-spread to corral the turkeys, all 8 weeks old and weighing about 4 pounds each into a corner.

Brushwood said he shot the owl and found it had bitten off the heads of more than 100 birds.

The professor started his marathon at 8 a.m. and, with an hour and a half off for lunch, wound up at 7:30 p.m.

This Bill Should Be Vetoed

President Eisenhower is pondering a bill requiring subversive organizations to register printing presses and duplicating machines with the government.

On the surface, this would appear to be a very commendable piece of legislation and it doubtless was passed by both houses of Congress on the conviction it would be an effective weapon in the fight against subversive literature which is flooding the country.

And it may well be exactly that. But whether the end justifies the means is debatable. We think the proposal has inherent dangers far greater than the evil propagated by the Communist propaganda publications.

Our fear is that this could very easily be the first step in a progressive challenge to the rights guaranteed by the First Amendment. If it is proper and legal to register printing presses owned by one group, what is to prevent the government from demanding the same of other groups or even of requiring a permit to use a press?

Nothing would please the Communists more than the spectacle of America frightened into curtailing our basic freedoms in the mistaken belief that subversion thereby will be brought under control.

If the Communist menace to this country is what we are convinced it is, it should be dealt with directly and forcibly by law—not by some backhanded method that would leave us all staggering at the finish.

We believe President Eisenhower should veto the bill.

Red Psychology in Morocco

An American investment of hundreds of millions of dollars in Strategic Air Force bases in French Morocco is threatened by riots against the established government. Once more France is reaping the whirlwind of a policy of colonialism that remained too rigid too long.

The Communist conspiracy has been fanning the fires of nationalism in Morocco as it did in Indochina. The United States, which constructed air bases in Morocco that would be of the utmost importance in the event of war and are a deterrent to war because of their existence, is caught in the middle again.

It cannot afford to be identified with French resistance to native home rule. Neither can it afford to lose the goodwill of France by supporting native nationalists, especially in view of the probability the nationalists are egged on by the Communist conspiracy.

The conspiracy feeds on the mistakes of non-Communist governments. It knows exactly how to exploit the psychology of discontent with foreign rule. Discontent is its stock in trade, and the ignorance of the discontented masses is its most powerful lever for dislodging authority.

Evidence of growing revolt in Morocco suggests the conspirators are getting down to serious business. The bases in Morocco are key installations of the Strategic Air Force in the blueprint for atomic war.

Remember the Fall of Troy!

Sociologists and political scientists for years to come will have a field day studying the ultimate effect of an all-woman administration in Burnsville, Miss., which has a population of 520.

There have been few chances to see the "weaker sex" in action since the Amazons under good Queen Penthesileia were among the vanquished in the Battle of Troy in 1184 B.C. At that ancient date, it will be remembered, the women warriors from the southern Russian steppes fell before their assailants when Achilles slew their leader.

The first thing the women warriors did in Burnsville was to put the men to work redecorating the one-room city hall, cutting down weeds and cleaning out ditches.

Her honor the mayor, Mrs. H. A. Montgomery, and her board of five aldermen, all of them housewives, had to increase taxes and this met opposition from some of the men. But Mrs. Montgomery said, "I believe we have that smoothed over now. The men cooperate wonderfully."

From here it looks as though the Burnsville men constitute a natural fifth column, and our advice to Mrs. Montgomery is to remember the Fall of Troy.

Gloomy Future

Anyone who wants to buy some slightly used tea leaves or a clouded crystal ball might have some luck in Wooster, where the city council has adopted an ordinance virtually banning fortune tellers.

Clashes of the law and the supernatural always are interesting, but in this case the law has the edge.

The ordinance provides that a clairvoyant setting up business in Wooster must present his addresses of the last five years, a statement from chiefs of police that he has not been arrested and has not been the target of any complaints and that his services must be endorsed by three Wooster businessmen. With these and a $25 license, the clairvoyant is in business.

Penalties for non-compliance run from fines of $25 to $100 and-or jail sentences of 30 days to 3 months.

Secret Information

By David Lawrence

Senators Seek Bounds of Presidential Authority

Lots of words have been written and charges flung into the air in recent weeks about the alleged encroachment on the executive branch of the government by the junior senator from Wisconsin, and it is a salutary development that six senators of judicial or legal experience have been appointed to study this, among other supposed infractions of senatorial right.

The truth is the American people in large part have been misled as to the real issue involved and have been given the impression that a virtual dictatorship exists in the United States whereby the executive can put any government employe in jail for giving to Congress any information to which the executive may think the Congress is not entitled.

There is not the slightest basis in the statutes of the United States for the exercise of any such alleged authority.

The United States code provides under Section 652:

"The right of persons employed in the Civil Service of the United States, either individually or collectively, to petition Congress, or any member thereof, or to furnish information to either house of Congress, or to any committee or member thereof, shall not be denied or interfered with."

This is the broad grant of authority to employes of the executive branch of the government, and it is in line with the constitutional rights given to all citizens to petition Congress or to exercise their right of free speech.

THIS IS NECESSARILY qualified by other provisions of law of a specific nature which are designed to prevent transmission of information to anyone who might use it to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign government.

Thus a long series of provisions have been enacted, in Title 18 (Section 794) U. S. code, which forbid the transmission of what might be called confidential or secret information, especially that relating to national defense.

These cover specifically two classes of cases. First there are the instances in which the executive employe "wilfully" transmits information to outsiders for the purpose of aiding a foreign government or with the object of "doing injury to the United States."

Then, second, there are the instances in which the executive employe wilfully transmits information which he knows or has reason to believe "could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign government."

But it must be proven that the persons to whom the information is transmitted are "not entitled to receive it."

Who is entitled to receive information inside the government of the United States?

Are members of Congress not entitled to receive information relative to the conduct of the executive agencies of the government whose appropriations and operations they are, under the Constitution, supposed to examine as a public duty?

Where is the specific provision of law that prohibits any information from being transmitted to members of Congress?

IF AN EXECUTIVE employe feels that his department head, in suppressing information, is doing injury to the United States and decides to give it to a member of Congress in confidence — and this has been done many times—the employe certainly is not transmitting it to injure but rather to defend the United States.

Sen. McCarthy said publicly that he felt the 2,000,000 federal employes had a duty to give to Congress any information that would protect the government. That was the issue in the case of the document on personnel of doubtful background which an officer in the Defense Department gave to the Wisconsin senator. Incidentally the senator never made public the document itself.

Before the Senate's special committee, therefore, can decide whether any wrong was committed by exhorting federal employes to furnish information which they believed would protect the United States, it would be necessary to have a federal court rule on the question of intent in each specific case of a federal employe who transmitted such information to a member of Congress.

CERTAINLY THE appeal by the Wisconsin senator to federal employes to tell members of Congress about graft, corruption, the covering up of spies or any other piece of wrongdoing they know about affecting personnel is so broad that it is doubtful whether individual members of Congress can be censured or penalized for trying to do what the Constitution orders them collectively to do—to "make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces" and "to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers and all other powers vested by the Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof."

It could hardly be argued that Congress must legislate without information and that the executive can arbitrarily by an executive order prevent any employes from furnishing to members of Congress information necessary for the performance of their legislative duties.

Women's Work

By TRUMAN TWILL

Every smidgin of Indian blood in me boiled and bubbled when I read that the braves at Ruth Lake, Labrador, where the white man is starting to gouge out iron ore, are standing on their aboriginal rights.

The industrial age has dropped into their wilderness like something cut loose from a balloon. Yesterday all was quiet and serene. Today, power shovels are clugging and hiring bosses are looking over the local yokels for daywage material.

But the braves aren't having any. If white men want to go fishing, they can hire an Indian guide for the going rate of $10 a day, which includes lunch. But as far as working in the ore pits or other menial labor is concerned, this is women's work and a double ugh to all of it. The red brothers aren't rushing to get themselves fitted for neck holks—not yet.

A few have been willing to help look for outcroppings of the red stuff the white men scoop up and send south to make guns, stretchers, rockets and ambulances. But that is as far as they have gone in the project that has caused a railroad, power stations and a town to be built hundreds of miles north of nowhere in the middle of nothing. They won't dig.

The only place in our own civilization where a man can be a brave and conserve his energy for fighting is in the armed services. Even there it isn't the way it used to be. A fellow has to stir about and help keep house, instead of concentrating on the manly arts of tracking, shooting and breathing deeply while lying on the flat of his back.

In all other categories, a man is expected to stir his stumps to some purpose. This has gone to such extremes some men now deem it unworthy of their pride if their squaws have to hit a finger. They let their best women grow fat and insolent in idleness, encouraging them to find mischief for their idle hands and malice for their idle minds.

My Indian ancestors kept their squaws busy. They set them to cracking corn and chewing leather. They chopped out arrowheads and rustled firewood. They took care of the stock, kept the pot boiling and kept their mouths shut until the head of the household brought home something to be boiled.

When the show went on the road, the squaws lugged the tent poles and the braves traveled light, in case anything came up. No one who understands the Indian arrangement ever had any illusions about Minnie Ha Ha and Hy Awatha. Hy was a beast who never helped his wife with the dishes.

Women are better workers in all respects than men. They are quicker to learn and harder to forget. Their fingers are nimbler and so are their wits. They stand drudgery better, are more inventive and less high-strung. They are more adaptable, hardier, easier to get along with and stronger in the long pull than the delicate and perishable male of the species.

Those relatives of ours up in Labrador will be well advised to stand fast and take no nonsense about going to work. With every drop of Indian blood that's in me, I urge them to make one last stand for the inviolability of the male right to foist off all work on women if men can get away with it—and the Indian boys have been getting away with it for thousands of years.

Loaded Gavel

Hoover's Gifts to Posterity

By Raymond Moley

The message offered to his countrymen by Herbert Hoover at the celebration of his 80th birthday in West Branch, Iowa, in the words of the old wedding admonition was "something old, and something new." But the allusion cannot be strained beyond that point, for there was certainly nothing "borrowed."

Hoover is no man to use a speech written by even the most capable of ghosts. About all that he borrows is the basic word of the Bible or the Constitution.

It is most significant that Hoover underlines the dangers that attend the encroachment of the president upon Congress, the courts and the states. This is clearly a tactful reply to the address some weeks ago by another ex-president, in which there was a rasping rebuke to the Congress for usurping the powers of the executive.

HOOVER SAYS of this dangerous trend in government: "I am not going to argue legalisms, for they do not go to the center of the issue. The real issue is whether the president, through declaration or implication or by appeasement or by acquiescence, or by joint statements with foreign officials, can commit the American people to foreign nations without the specific consent of the elected representatives of the people.

"There has been a grievous list of such commitments. They include international agreements which shackle our economy by limiting a free market. But more terrible were such executive agreements as our recognition of Soviet Russia. . . our tactic alliance with Soviet Russia . . . our acquiescence in the annexation by Russia of the Baltic States at Moscow and the partition of Poland at Teheran. . . the appeasement and surrender at Yalta of ten nations to slavery. . .

"These actions of unrestrained presidential freedom resulted in a shrinking of human freedom over the whole world. We must make such misuses of power forever impossible."

Implied in all this is the answer to those like Truman who complain about the encroachments of Congress. For Congress certainly cannot be charged with the disastrous acts which have placed upon us the burden of a mad armament race and the danger of a catastrophic war.

Basic in the Hoover philosophy are two warnings which he has stated before, but never so forcibly as in this speech. The first is the peril involved in the corruption of the constitutional safeguards of free men, not through the direct attacks of communism but through the seductive appeal of socialism masked as welfare and planning.

The second is the delusion "offered us by fuzzy - minded people . . . that imaginary creature, The Common Man. . . The imperative need of this nation at all times is the leadership of the Uncommon Men and Women."

We should not forget that the uncommon man said, "This is a Quaker."

Some years ago, Hoover's good friend, David Hinshaw, wrote a remarkable book making clear that the fortitude of Hoover in the face of disappointment and defeat, his indifference to the pomp and perquisities of high office, his scorn of dubious means to even good ends, his unflagging industry, in short, what Hoover calls "a sound philosophy and a stout heart" came from his Quaker faith.

Hinshaw — himself a Quaker — added that fortunately Hoover has escaped the dour lack of humor so common in people of that faith.

TWO SPEECHES of Hoover will, I hope, live in the annals of his country. The first I was fortunate in hearing at his last appearance before the Gridiron Club, after his defeat for re-election.

There was no rancor in what he said, nor was there the whimper of frustrated hope. Instead, there was gratitude for what his country had given this poor boy who became president of the United States.

There was also a stern warning to those who were to succeed him against weakening the supports of the Constitution or enfeebling the fiber of the people with fatuous promises and policies.

The second is this speech at the milestone of four score. It is the distilled essence of many years of thought and the ripe fruit of incomparable experience.

Getting Down to the Roots

By MARK DANA

The eminent journal of the ethically cautious American Dental Association suggests some hope, based on recent experimental successes, that the shifting of teeth from one part of the mouth to another may become a standard technique — which gives us something to chew on encouragingly.

The idea thus far is broached only limitedly, to be sure, and pertains chiefly to youngsters who have lost one or more permanent molars. By surgical transplanting, a tooth is simply dug up from another part of the jaw, set out in the vacated gap, the shape of the jaw does not become distorted, and although the moved tooth may pine for its former adjacent friends there is general happiness all around — after the pain stops.

What would interest mortals more, of course, would be some successful transfers of teeth from condemned criminals or deceased paupers to persons who can use them more permanently. The grafting of a flowing head of hair from such a departing or departed wearer to a bald person's pate has been in intriguingly wistful contemplation for years.

Such transplanting of eyes, bits of bone and arteries is now commonplace — and why not teeth? True, a shift of ivory within the mouth can fill gaps important for mastication or pulchritude, and dentists are as zealous as doctors for human beauty and mourn dutifully if, to start with, there are no good looks worth saving.

Anyhow, we shall gnash our present teeth impatiently until comes the day when we can offer an impoverished acquaintance (instead of a loan) a few dollars for his best bicuspid and give it a new home with some assurance that it will be satisfied and grow.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The Mansion House was the scene of Marion's social events in the mid-1800's and later, invitations in the private library of Elmer R. Bondley, 385 Monroe St., disclose.

On Monday, Jan. 1, 1849, the social set attended a New Year's Ball at the Mansion House Captioned "New Year's Ball," an invitation to R. T. Applebaugh read: "The company of Mr. R. T. Applebaugh and Lady, is respectfully solicited to attend a New Year's Ball, at the Mansion House, Marion, Ohio, on Monday, January 1st, 1849, at 4 o'clock p.m." The invitation was worded in script with the names of the "managers" in print: O. Patten, A. W. Baker, N. M. Runyan, W. R. Drake, O. W. Willett, A. H. Brown.

A "Miss Kelly" received an invitation to a Cotillion Party in 1867 given by managers O. Bowen, N. M. Leatherberry, O. Patten, S. A. Griswold, E. P. Copeland, A. C. W. Norton, J. C. James and J. B. Dumble. Headed "Cotillion Party" the formal invitation read: "You are respectfully solicited to attend a Cotillion Party to be held at the Mansion House, Marion, on the evening the 31st, inst., commencing at 5 o'clock p.m." The invitation failed to state the month.

A grand benefit ball, "tendered by the employes of the Huber Manufacturing Co., to one of their shop-mates," was an event of Friday evening, January 7, 1881. The invitation, printed in red, bears a picture of a Huber engine on the back. This event to which "Your Company, with Ladies, is Cordially Solicited to Attend," was held in the City Hall. The committee on arrangements included Charles G. Schneider, Robert T. Holmes, George Krause, Jess C. Dyer and P. E. Burke and music was by Martin's Orchestra. Tickets, so the invitation reads, were 75 cents.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Check and Double Check

It was 40 years ago this month that this planet world went off its rocker with the first World War. It won little but the right to ask, "Where am I" on a penalty basis. A review of events destroys the illusion that human beings are smart or even capable of sound reasoning.

A pompous egotist was strutted in 3-D and behaved like an old time vaudeville comedian on horseback started the first war. A screwball paperhanger, several postcard salesmen and refugee from a correspondence school started the second. Four million were fought against plotters against freedom, and now, 40 years later, we have them kingsize.

Our theory that we can't be shocked if an obscure alcoholic succeeds the late Hungary Ferdinand (who did?) in world is now in a situation where everybody is shocking somebody else. Americans are not even bothered with.

"Make the world safe for democracy." "The yanks must go home by Christmas," were our slogans and they seem to have been replaced by "Quick Xmas bonus system." "Heal everything" and "Are you sure the foglights are working."

Our side licked Kaiser Bill and "Nature" Hitler, two of the most "I can't see any man in the house" characters in history, but it proved only that the victor in modern warfare winds up broke. Even, what's the punishment?

What did two world wars bring us? The atom bomb, jet propulsion, the $18,500 one floor bungalow with expansion attic, the smallest glass of beer for the money on earth and more electric iceboxes than any other nation.

We fought for a better world and got Panmunjom, the veto, the 15-cent cup of coffee, the sales tax, the $1.25 haircut and the 35-cent shave! We blitzed the gossip and got the Buzzards Waltz. We licked the Kaiser and Hitler and get Malenkov, Molotov, Chou En lai, Gen. Mao, Ho Chan Whoozits, the 25-year itch and the largest armed branch.

We knocked off Bill, Adolf, Benito and Hirohito and come up with the Kremlin world conspiracy, international hoods and long range jitters.

We went to war for honor, decency and the four freedoms and we get global spy hearts, flying saucers, the underwater fountain pen, the dollar shrimp cocktail, the five-dollar steak, the killer-diller tax bill, 1-ft. shiving in every home and 100 "SHELTER" arrows in every office building.

All the world's a stage and the people merely nervous disorder cases thumbing noses at one another. It must be nice to have nothing to fear but man-eating sharks. The Four Horsemen now ride guided missiles. A head hunting savage looks excusably baffled today when somebody tries to interest him in becoming civilized. Looking at this planet it is hard to tell whether it is a planet, a psychopathic case, an animal act or a towing job. Things are safer in wasp nests.

People are so dangerous it is hard to get wildcat to enter the cage with human beings. One of the biggest figures in the amusement world is a CHIMPANZEE. The other day a boy smacked a bear and the bear took to its heels, probably to take it up with U.N. Kids are attacking policemen. Our canary spits at the cat and sang, "Throw 'em Out McCloskey."

Civilization? Take it away! I got in under false pretenses.

The Army has banned bare midriff dresses, halter straps, shirts and bluejeans on the wives and daughters of GIs in Western Germany. . . . This is what is meant by a "covering" order. . . . Maybe it's meant to remind the girls that it's the "stars and stripes," not the "stars and strips."

Rhodes Quotes Ike: Ohio Needs GOP Governor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio needs a Republican governor, President Eisenhower was quoted as saying yesterday.

Ohio Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, told newsmen the President said Ohio needs a man who would appoint a senator of his own party when the occasion arises.

Rhodes talked with the President yesterday. He and his family also posed for pictures with the chief executive.

Rhodes said he discussed with Eisenhower the situation which arose when Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, appointed Democrat Thomas A. Burke to the Senate to replace the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican.

SHE WAITED

WOODLAND, Calif. (UP)—Mrs. Ida B. Richardson filed a divorce suit here, charging her husband, Floyd G., deserted her 34 years ago. They were married in Tacoma, Wash., in 1919.

Let's Explore Ohio

Possibly as far back as 700 BC, those ancient Indians whom we call the Mound Builders were at work erecting the 10,000 or more earthworks scattered throughout Ohio. Largest and most impressive of the prehistoric fortifications of these mysterious people is Fort Ancient on Route 350 east of Lebanon. This grass covered common within the enclosing walls of Fort Ancient was once a fortified village site overlooking the Little Miami River valley. The earthen walls of this fortification encircle an area of more than 100 acres. In some places the walls even today are 20 feet in height and there are numerous gateway openings in the walls. Last year 157,448 people visited Fort Ancient and the museum which houses a fine collection of relics of the Mound Builders. Some 685 acres, including the fortification, have been set aside as a State Memorial maintained by the Ohio Historical Society.

More Liberal Rules

Sickness Benefits Become Tax-Exempt

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many millions of additional workers are now eligible for tax-exemption on wages received while they are sick.

And more liberal rules have been adopted for taxing other employe sickness or accident benefits, death benefits, and lump-sum payments under pension, profit or stock-sharing plans.

Ninth of a Series

All these rules are spelled out in the huge tax revision act recently passed by Congress. They apply to such employe benefits received after last Dec. 31, if they are financed by employers under any systematic plan.

IF YOU ARE covered by such a plan, perhaps the most important thing to remember is this:

If your pay is continued while you are off work because of sickness or injury, you pay no tax on wages of up to $100 a week after the first seven days of the sickness or injury.

Further, you pay no tax on wages up to $100 during the first seven days if your absence is due to accidental injury, or if you are hospitalized at any time during an illness.

Thus, for example, if you make $100 a week or more and you are out three weeks with an injury or hospital illness, you can deduct $300 from your taxable income. Even at the minimum 20 per cent tax rate, that would be a tax saving of $60 for you. If you are sick but don't go to a hospital, your wages for two of the three weeks still would be tax-free, for a tax cut of at least $40.

HERE ARE OTHER important benefits.

You pay no tax on payments which reimburse you for actual medical expenses paid by you or your dependents. Like sick leave wages, these payments simply are not counted as income.

Similarly you pay no tax on payments to you for the loss of limb or other part of the body, or for permanent disfigurement.

Under the old tax law, some employes got these tax-free benefits and some didn't. Generally, if your employer had a commercial insurance contract to cover his sick and accident benefits, they were tax-exempt. But if the employer financed them himself—as many do, especially for sick leave pay—the benefits were fully taxable.

The new law wipes out what its sponsors called an unjust discrimination.

There is no limit on the sick-pay exemption. If you are out for six months, for example, you could get up to $2,600 in tax-free wages and save at least $520 in taxes.

If an employe pays part of the cost of a sick or accident benefit plan, he pays no tax on the benefits for which he pays. The rules above would apply to that part of benefits financed by his employer.

THE NEW ACT takes a similar step toward death benefits. Payments of up to $5,000 to beneficiaries could be tax exempt under the old law—but only if the employer was bound by contract to pay the benefit. The new act grants the exemption whether the benefit is paid under contract or not.

The new act also extends the $5,000 exemption to lump-sum death payments under qualified pension, profit-sharing or stock-bonus plans. Under the old law, such payments were not exempt if the employe while living had a benefit right which could not be forfeited to anyone else.

One old provision is tightened, however. Any one employe is entitled to only one $5,000 death benefit exemption. In the past, a man working for several firms could get a $5,000 tax-free benefit from each firm.

There is one more change affecting benefits paid because of separation from service under pension, profit-sharing or stock bonus plans. Under the old law, lump-sum payments under these plans were taxed as ordinary income if the employer bought a commercial insurance contract to cover them. If the employer financed the plan through a trust fund, the benefits were taxed at the capital gain rate, which usually was lower than the regular income tax. The new law extends the capital gain rate even to insured plans.

Moreover, under the old law if you died after retirement, the lump-sum payoff to your beneficiaries was always taxed as ordinary income. Now this lump-sum payment can be taxed as a capital gain.

Marion Lions Hear Address By Psychiatrist

Dr. Robert E. Weimer, psychiatrist at the Frederick C. Smith Clinic, was guest speaker at the Marion Lions Club meeting Monday noon at Hotel Harding. His subject was "Adult Psychiatry."

He explained that child psychology is in the long run no different than adult psychology. The fundamental basis of human psychology is that we are what we are today from the first eight to ten years of our lives.

Dr. Weimer told his audience that mental health is America's No. 1 health problem today, surpassing all other diseases. He stated that 10,000 more mental patients are admitted to treatment centers each year than are released. He stressed the need for more research on the problem.

Discussing the symptoms of mental illness, Dr. Weimer explained that the need is for early care. He stated that fear is a great handicap in the treating of the mentally ill But he added mental sickness should be treated as other diseases, from an early stage.

A question and answer period followed his talk.

Dr. Weimer was introduced by Jack Hughes, program chairman for the day.

A guest was Dr. Roy Light, professor of music at the Wisconsin State College, Whitewater, Wis.

Robert Cripps, president of the club, announced the Lions Club annual charity bazaar to be held Sept. 23-24-25 at the Marion County Fairgrounds.

Crawford Group Holds Lamb Sale at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — In the first sale of its kind ever held in Crawford County, more than 150 lambs, most of them graded "choice," were sold Monday at the Bucyrus Producers Livestock Barn.

The sale was sponsored by the recently organized Crawford County Sheep and Lamb Improvement Association. County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller reported.

Lambs were brought in early in the morning, graded according to weight and quality and sold in the afternoon. All lambs sold were raised in the county. Members of the lamb pool operation committee are David Kail, chairman, Eldon Ferguson, J. I. Will, Arden Smith and James Wiley.

The next auction will be held on Monday, Aug. 30, and subsequent sales will be held every other Monday.
